(2) Upon application by a federally defined eligible individual to the lead carrier for an association portability plan, the association may not:

(a) decline to offer an association portability plan; or

(b) impose a preexisting condition exclusion with respect to an individual's association portability plan coverage if application for association portability plan coverage is made within 63 days following termination of the applicant's most recent prior creditable coverage.

(3) Not less than 88% of the association plan premiums paid to the lead carrier may be used to pay claims and not more than 12% may be used for payment of the lead carrier's direct and indirect expenses as specified in 33-22-1514.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 588 1999

(4) Any income in excess of the costs incurred by the association in providing reinsurance or administrative services must be held at interest and used by the association to offset past and future losses due to claims expenses of the association plan and the association portability plan or be allocated to reduce association plan premiums.

(5) (a) Each participating member of the association shall share the losses due to claims expenses of the association plan and the association portability plan for plans issued or approved for issuance by the association and shall share in the operating and administrative expenses incurred or estimated to be incurred by the association incident to the conduct of its affairs. Claims expenses of the association plan and the association portability plan that exceed the premium payments allocated to the payment of benefits are the liability of the association members. Association members shall share in the claims expenses of the association plan and the association portability plan and operating and administrative expenses of the association in an amount equal to the ratio of the association member's total disability insurance premium received from or on behalf of Montana residents divided by the total disability insurance premium received by all association members from or on behalf of Montana residents as determined by the commissioner.

(b) For purposes of this subsection (5), "total disability insurance premium" does not include premiums received from disability income insurance, credit disability insurance, disability waiver insurance, or life insurance.

(6) The association shall make an annual determination of each association member's liability, if any, and may make an annual ~~fiscal-yearend~~ assessment if necessary. Assessments related to the operation and expenses of the association plan must be determined and levied separately from assessments related to the operation and expenses of the association portability plan. The association may also, subject to the approval of the commissioner, provide for interim assessments against the association members as may be necessary to ensure the financial capability of the association in meeting the incurred or estimated claims expenses of the association plan and the association portability plan and operating and administrative expenses of the association until the association's next annual ~~fiscal-yearend~~ assessment. Payment of an assessment is due within 30 days of receipt by an association member of a written notice of a ~~fiscal-yearend~~ annual or interim assessment. Failure by a contributing member to tender to the association the assessment within 30 days is grounds for termination of membership. An association member that ceases to do disability insurance business within the state remains liable for assessments through the calendar year during which disability insurance business ceased. The association may decline to levy an assessment against an association member if the assessment, as determined pursuant to this section, would not exceed $10.

(7) Any annual ~~fiscal-yearend~~ or interim assessment relating to the operation and expenses of the association plan levied against an association member may be offset, in an amount equal to the assessment paid to the association, against the premium tax payable by that association member pursuant to 33-2-705 for the year in which the annual ~~fiscal-yearend~~ or interim assessment is levied. The insurance commissioner shall report to the office of budget and program planning, as a part of the informatien required by 17-7-111, the total amount of premium tax offset claimed by association members during the preceding biennium. Assessments relating to the operation and expenses of the association portability plan and levied against an association member may not be offset against the premium tax payable by that association member."

Section 5. Section 33-22-1515, MCA, is amended to read:

"33-22-1515. Solicitation of eligible persons. (1) The association, pursuant to a plan approved by the commissioner, shall disseminate appropriate information to the residents of this state regarding the existence of the association plan and the means of enrollment. Means of communication may include use of the press, radio, and television, as well as publication in appropriate state offices and publications.

(2) The association shall devise and implement means of maintaining public awareness of this part and shall administer this part in a manner that facilitates public participation in the association plan.

(3) All licensed disability insurance producers may engage in the selling or marketing of the association plan. The lead carrier shall pay an insurance producer's referral fee of at least $25 to each licensed disability insurance producer who refers an applicant to the association plan, if the applicant is accepted. The amount of the referral fee must be set by the board of directors of the association and is subject to the approval of the commissioner. The referral fees must be paid by the lead carrier from money received as premiums for the association plan.

(4) An insurer, society, health maintenance organization, or health service corporation that rejects or applies underwriting restrictions to an applicant for disability insurance shall notify the applicant of the existence of the association plan, requirements for being accepted in ~~it~~ the association plan, and the procedure for applying to ~~it~~ the association plan."

Section 6. Section 33-22-1516, MCA, is amended to read:

"33-22-1516. Enrollment by eligible person. (1) The association plan must be open for enrollment by eligible persons. An eligible person may enroll in the plan by submission of a certificate of eligibility to the lead carrier. The certificate must provide:

(a) the name, address, and age of the applicant and length of the applicant's residence in this state;

(b) the name, address, and age of spouse and children, if any, if they are to be insured;

(c) written evidence that the person fulfills all of the elements of an eligible person, as defined in 33-22-1501; and

(d) a designation of coverage desired.

(2) Within 30 days of receipt of the certificate, the lead carrier shall either reject the application for failing to comply with the requirements of subsection (1) or forward the eligible person a notice of acceptance and billing information. Insurance is effective on the first of the month following acceptance.

(3) An eligible person may not purchase more than one policy from the association plan.

(4) A person who obtains coverage under the association plan may not be covered for any preexisting condition during the first 12 months of coverage under the association plan if the person was diagnosed or treated for that condition during the ~~5~~ 3 years immediately preceding the filing of an application. The association may not apply a preexisting condition exclusion to coverage under the association portability plan if application for association portability plan coverage is made within 63 days following termination of the applicant's most recent prior creditable coverage. The association shall waive any time period applicable to a preexisting condition exclusion for the period of time that any other eligible individual was covered under the following types of coverage if the coverage was continuous to a date not more than 30 days prior to submission of an application for coverage under the association plan:

(a) an individual health insurance policy that includes coverage by an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, a health service corporation, or a health maintenance organization that provides benefits similar to or exceeding the benefits provided by the association plan; or

(b) an employer-based health insurance benefit arrangement that provides benefits similar to or exceeding the benefits provided by the association plan."

CHAPTER NO. 175

AN ACT ADOPTING THE EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE COMPACT AS AN INTERSTATE COMPACT; PROVIDING THE TERMS OF THE COMPACT; AUTHORIZING REQUESTS FOR AND RESPONSES TO REQUESTS FROM OTHER STATES FOR THE PURPOSE OF INTERSTATE SHARING OF EQUIPMENT AND PERSONNEL TO RESPOND TO NATURAL AND HUMAN-CAUSED DISASTERS AND EMERGENCIES; APPOINTING THE ADMINISTRATOR OF THE DISASTER AND EMERGENCY SERVICES DIVISION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS AS THE ADMINISTRATOR OF THE COMPACT; PROVIDING FOR SUPPLEMENTARY AGREEMENTS TO IMPLEMENT THE COMPACT; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 594 1999

Section 1. Enactment — provisions. The Emergency Management Assistance Compact is enacted into law and entered into with all other jurisdictions joining in the compact in the form substantially as follows:

Article I - Definitions, Purposes, and Authorities

(1) As used in this compact, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Party states" means the states that enact this compact.

(b) "States" means the several states, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, and all U.S. territorial possessions.

(2) This compact is made and entered into by and between the participating party states that enact this compact.

(3) The purpose of this compact is to provide for mutual assistance between the party states in managing any emergency or disaster that is declared by the governor of an affected state, whether arising from natural disaster, technological hazard, human-caused disaster, civil emergency aspects of resources shortages, community disorders, insurgency, or enemy attack.

(4) This compact also provides for mutual cooperation in emergency-related exercises, testing, or other training activities using equipment and personnel simulating performance of any aspect of the giving and receiving of aid by party states or subdivisions of party states during emergencies, those actions occurring outside actual declared emergency periods. Mutual assistance in this compact may include the use of the states' national guard forces, either in accordance with the National Guard Mutual Assistance Compact or by mutual agreement between party states.

Article II - General Implementation

(1) Each party state recognizes that many emergencies transcend political jurisdictional boundaries and that intergovernmental coordination is essential in managing these and other emergencies under this compact. Each party state further recognizes that there will be emergencies that require immediate access and present procodures to apply outside resources to make a prompt and effective response to an emergency. This is because few, if any, individual states have all the resources that they may need in all types of emergencies or the capability of delivering resources to areas where emergencies exist.

(2) The prompt, full, and effective utilization of resources of the participating states, including any resources on hand or available from the federal government or any other source, that are essential to the safety, care, and welfare of the people in the event of any emergency or disaster declared by a party state is the underlying principle on which all articles of this compact must be understood.

(3) On behalf of the governor of each party state, the legally designated state official who is assigned responsibility for emergency management is responsihle for formulation of the appropriate interstate mutual aid plans and procedures necessary to implement this compact.

Article III - Party State Responsibilities

(1) It is the responsibility of each party state to formulate procedural plans and programs for interstate cooperation in the performance of the responsibilities listed in this article. In formulating those plans and in carrying them out, the party states, insofar as practical, shall:

(a) review individual party state hazards analyses and, to the extent reasonably possible, determine all those potential emergencies that the party states might jointly suffer, whether because of natural disaster, technological hazard, human-caused disaster, emergency aspects of resource shortages, civil disorders, insurgency, or enemy attack;

(b) review party states' individual emergency plans and develop a plan that will determine the mechanism for the interstate management and provision of assistance concerning any potential emergency;

(c) develop interstate procedures to fill any identified gaps and to resolve any identified inconsistencies or overlaps in existing or developed plans;

(d) assist in warning communities adjacent to or crossing the state boundaries;

(e) protect and ensure uninterrupted delivery of services, medicines, water, food, energy and fuel, search and rescue, and critical lifeline equipment, services, and resources, both human and material;

(f) inventory and set procedures for the interstate loan and delivery of human and material resources, together with procedures for reimbursement or forgiveness; and

(g) provide, to the extent authorized by law, for temporary suspension of any statutes.

(2) The authorized representative of a party state may request assistance of another party state by contacting the authorized representative of that state. The provisions of this agreement apply only to requests for assistance made by and to authorized representatives. Requests may be verbal or in writing. If a request is verbal, the request must be confirmed in writing within 30 days of the verbal request. Requests must provide the following information:

(a) a description of the emergency service function for which assistance is needed, such as fire services, law enforcement, emergency medical, transportation, communications, public works and engineering, building inspection, planning and information assistance, mass care, resource support, health and medical services, and search and rescue;

(b) the amount and type of personnel, equipment, materials, and supplies needed and a reasonable estimate of the length of time that will be needed; and

(c) the specific place and time for staging of the assisting party state's response and a point of contact at that location.

(3) There must be frequent consultation between state officials who have assigned emergency management responsibilities and other appropriate representatives of the party states with affected jurisdictions and the United States government, with free exchange of information, plans, and resource records relating to emergency capabilities.

Article IV - Limitations

A party state requested to render mutual aid or to conduct exercises and training for mutual aid shall take action necessary to provide and make available the resources covered by this compact in accordance with the terms of this compact. However, it is understood that the state rendering aid may withhold resources to the extent necessary to provide reasonable protection for that state. Each party state shall afford to the emergency forces of any party state, while operating within its state limits under the terms and conditions of this compact, the same powers, except the power of arrest unless specifically authorized by the receiving state, duties, rights, and privileges as are afforded forces of the party state in which they are performing emergency services. Emergency forces shall continue under the command and control of their regular leaders, but the organizational units shall come under the operational control of the emergency services authorities of the state receiving assistance. These conditions may be activated, as needed, only subsequent to a declaration of a state of emergency or disaster by the gevernor of the party state that is to receive assistance or subsequent to commencement of exercises or training for mutual aid and must continue so long as the exercises or training for mutual aid is in progress, the state of emergency or disaster remains in effect, or loaned resources remain in the receiving state, whichever is longer.

Article V - Licenses and Permits

If a person holding a license, certificate, or other permit issued by a party state evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional, mechanical, or other skills is requested for assistance by the receiving party state, that person is considered licensed, certified, or permitted by the party state requesting assistance to render aid involving that skill to meet a declared emergency or disaster. However, the person holding the license, certificate, or permit is subject to limitations and conditions tbat the governor of the requesting party state may prescribe by executive order or other means.

Article VI - Liability

Officers or employees of a party state rendering aid in another party state pursuant to this compact are considered agents of the requesting state for tort liability and immunity purposes. A party state or its officers or employees rendering aid in another party state pursuant to this compact are not liable on account of an act taken or omission made in good faith on the part of the forces giving that aid or on account of the maintenance or use of any equipment or supplies in connection with giving that aid. Good faith, as used in this article, does not include willful misconduct, gross negligence, or recklessness.

Article VII - Supplementary Agreements

Because it is probahle that the pattern and detail of the machinery for mutual aid among two or more states may differ from that among the states that are party to this compact, this compact contains elements of a broad base common to all states. This compact does not prevent a party state from making supplementary agreements with another state or affect any other agreements already in force between states. Supplementary agreements may include provisions for evacuation and reception of injured and other persons and the exchange of medical, fire, police, public utility, reconnaissance, welfare, transportation and communications personnel, and equipment and supplies.

Article VIII - Compensation

Each party state shall provide for the payment of compensation and death benefits to injured members of the emergency forces of that state and representatives of deceased members of those forces in case those members sustain injuries or are killed while rendering aid pursuant to this compact, in the same manner and on the same terms as if the injury or death were sustained within their own state.

Article IX - Reimbursement

A party state rendering aid in another party state pursuant to this compact must be reimbursed by the party state receiving that aid for any loss or damage to or expense incurred in the operation of any equipment and the provision of any service in answering a request for aid and for the costs incurred in connection with a request. However, an aiding party state may assume in whole or in part a loss, damage, expense, or other cost or may loan equipment or donate services to the receiving party state without charge or cost. Two or more party states may enter into supplementary agreements establishing a different allocation of costs among those states. Article VIII expenses are not reimbursable under this provision.

Article X - Evacuation

(1) Plans for the orderly evacuation and interstate reception of portions of the civilian population as the result of any emergency or disaster of sufficient proportions to require those plans, must he worked out and maintained hetween the party states and the emergency management or emergency services directors of the various jurisdictions where any type of incident requiring evacuations might occur. The plans must be put into effect hy request of the party state from which evacuees come and must include:

(a) the manner of transperting those evacuees;

(b) the number of evacuees to be received in different areas;

(c) the manner in which food, clothing, housing, and medical care will be provided;

(d) the registration of the evacuees;

(e) the providing of facilities for the notification of relatives or friends of evacuees;

(f) the forwarding of evacuees to other areas or the bringing in of additional materials or supplies; and

(g) all other relevant factors.

(2) The plans referred to in subsection (1) must provide that the party state receiving evacuees and the party state from which the evacuees come shall mutually agree as to reimbursement of out-of-pocket expenses incurred in receiving and caring for evacuees, for expenditures for transportation, food, clothing, medicines, and medical care, and for similar items. The exponditures must be reimbursed as agreed by the party state from which the evacuees come. After the termination of the emergency or disaster, the party state from which the evacuees come shall assume the responsibility for the ultimate support of repatriation of the evacuees.

Article XI - Implementation

(1) This compact becomes operative immediately upon its enactment into law by any two states. After it becomes operative, this compact is effective in any other state upon its enactment by that other state.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 598 1999

(2) A party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the compact, but withdrawal does not take effect until 30 days after the governor of the withdrawing state has given notice in writing of the withdrawal to the governors of all other party states. Withdrawal does not relieve the withdrawing state from obligations assumed under this compact prior to the effective date of withdrawal.

(3) Authenticated copies of this compact and any supplementary agreements as may be entered into must, at the time of their approval, be deposited with each of the party states and with the federal emergency management agency and other appropriate agencies of the United States government.

Article XII - Validity

This compact must be construed to effectuate the purposes stated in Article I. If any provision of this compact is declared unconstitutional or if the applicability of a provision to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the constitutionality of the remainder of this compact and the applicability of this compact to other persons and circumstances are not affected.

Article XIII - Additional Provisions

This compact does not authorize or permit the use of military force by the national guard of a party state at any place outside that state in any emergency for which the president is authorized by law to call into federal service the militia or for any purpose for which the use of the army or the air force would in the absence of express statutory authorization be prohibited under 18 U.S.C. 1385.

Section 2. Compact administrator. The administrator of the disaster and emergency services division of the department of military affairs is the administrator of the compact provided for in [section 1].

Section 3. Supplementary agreements. The compact administrator provided for in [section 2] may enter into agreements with other officials in other states, as provided in Article VII of this compact, and in Montana that are necessary to implement the compact.

Section 4. Codification instruction. [Sections 1 through 3] are intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 10, chapter 3, and the provisions of Title 10, chapter 3, apply to [sections 1 through 3].

Section 5. Two-thirds vote required. Because Article VI of the compact provided for in [section 1] limits governmental liability, Article II, section 18, of the Montana constitution requires a vote of two-thirds of the members of each house of the legislature for passage.

Section 6. Effective date. [This act] is effective on passage and approval.

UNDERGOES SIGNIFICANT REORGANIZATION; PROHIBITING THE BOARD FROM DESIGNATING A FORMERLY UNDESIGNATED LABOR ORGANIZATION AS THE EXCLUSIVE BARGAINING AGENT IN THE ABSENCE OF A PETITION FOR DESIGNATION; AMENDING SECTION 39-31-202, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 39-31-202, MCA, is amended to read:

AN ACT ALLOWING THE TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION TO TRANSFER APPORTIONED PRIMARY HIGHWAY SYSTEM FUNDS WITHIN AND BETWEEN FINANCIAL DISTRICTS; AND AMENDING SECTION 60-3-205, MCA.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 60-3-205, MCA, is amended to read:

"60-3-205. Apportionment of state funds to primary highway system. (1) Prior to the beginning of each biennium, the commission, referring to highway sufficiency ratings developed by the department, shall designate a level of sufficiency considered adequate and a lesser level of sufficiency considered critical, both to be used to compute the apportionment of federal-aid highway funds for the primary highway system during the succeeding biennium.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 600 1999

(2) The department shall then compute the ratio:

(a) between the mileage rated below adequate sufficiency in each financial district and the total mileage rated below adequate sufficiency of the primary highway system in the state; and

(b) between the mileage rated at or below critical sufficiency in each financial district and the total mileage rated at or below critical sufficiency of the primary highway system in the state.

(3) The department, subject to the limitation provided in subsection (4), shall then distribute three-fourths of the available federal-aid highway funds for the primary highway system among the financial districts according to the ratios computed in subsection (2)(a) and one-fourth of the available federal-aid highway funds for the primary highway system among the financial districts according to the ratios computed in subsection (2)(b).

(4) A financial district may not receive more than one-third of the total funds available for the primary highway system in any biennium. If a financial district would receive more than one-third of the total funds available under the formula in subsection (3), its apportionment is limited to the one-third maximum and any excess funds that it would have received must be redistributed among the other districts according to the formula.

(5) (a) To the extent necessary to permit the orderly programming and construction of projects, ~~obligations in any financial district may exceed the amount apportioned to that district by up to 25%. The amount of excess obligations must be deducted from future apportionments to that district.~~ *the commission may transfer and obligate apportioned primary system funds for any project located on the federal-aid interstate or national highway systems within a financial district. (a) Determine the funding required for the district's final general fund budget less the sum of direct state aid and the special education allowable cost payment for the district by totaling:

(2) The amount of tax on fleet vehicles subject to the provisions of 61-3-318 is ~~1%~~ one-half of the percentage determined under subsection (3) of the value determined under 61-3-503.

(3) For tax years beginning after December 31, 2000, the taxable percentage for the computation of taxes under this section is determined prior to the start of a tax year by multiplying the statewide total taxable value of motor vehicles subject to taxation under this section for the first half of the prior calendar year by the prior year tax rate and then dividing the product by the statewide total taxable value of motor vehicles subject to taxation under this section for the first half of the current calendar year. For the tax year beginning after December 31, 1999, the rate is 1.4%. To determine the rate for tax year 2001, the tax rate for the first half of calendar year 1999 is considered to be 1.4%."

Section 3. Section 61-3-509, MCA, is amended to read:

If the distribution* of money collected under 61-3-504 to a school district general fund results in a lower revenue than the district received in fiscal year 1999 and the district has, for all years after fiscal year 1999, received less revenue than fiscal year 1999, then the district general fund is entitled to state reimbursement for the amount of the difference between the fiscal year 1999 revenue and the current year distributions of collections under 61-3-504.

(2) The county treasurer shall deduct as a district court fee ~~7%~~ 10% of the amount of the ~~2%~~ tax collected on light vehicles under 61-3-504(1). The county treasurer shall credit the fee for district courts to a separate suspense account and shall forward the amount in the account to the state treasurer at the time that the county treasurer distributes money from the motor vehicle suspense fund. The state treasurer shall credit amounts received under this subsection to the state special revenue fund to be used for purposes of state funding of district court expenses as provided in 3-5-901."

Section 4. Section 61-3-537, MCA, is amended to read:

(2) A local vehicle tax is payable at the same time and in the same manner as the tax imposed under 61-3-504. The first priority of the local vehicle tax is for district court funding, and the tax is distributed as follows:

(a) 50% to the county; and

(b) the remaining 50% to the county and the incorporated cities and towns within the county, apportioned on the basis of population. The distribution to a city or town is determined by multiplying the amount of money available by the ratio of the population of the city or town to the total county population. The distribution to the county is determined by multiplying the amount of money available by the ratio of the population of unincorporated areas within the county to the total county population.

(3) The governing body of a county may impose, revise, or revoke a local vehicle tax ~~by adopting a resolution before July 1, after conducting a public hearing on the proposed resolution. AN ACT EXTENDING THE STATE UNIVERSAL SERVICE FUND FOR TELECOMMUNICATIONS; AMENDING SECTIONS 69-3-843, 69-3-844, AND 69-3-845, MCA; AMENDING SECTION 41, CHAPTER 349, LAWS OF 1997; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE AND A TERMINATION DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 69-3-843, MCA, is amended to read:

"69-3-843. (Temporary) Fund administrator. (1) A fiscal agent and daily administrator must be selected to receive and distribute funds under 69-3-841, 69-3-842, 69-3-844, 69-3-845, and this section.

(2) The fiscal agent must be selected by the commission based upon a competitive bidding process after an opportunity for public comment on the specific qualifications required of the fiscal agent. A telecommunications carrier is not eligible to be the fiscal agent. The duties of the fiscal agent must be determined by a contract consistent with 69-3-841, 69-3-842, 69-3-844, 69-3-845, and this section. The contract term of the fiscal agent must expire December 31, ~~1999~~ 2001.

(3) The fiscal agent shall provide ~~quarterly~~ monthly reports of fund activities to the commission and shall provide audits annually by a certified public accountant in a manner determined by and under the direction of the commission.

(4) The fund financial accounts of the fiscal agent must he available at reasonable times to any telecommunications carrier in the state and to the public. The commission may investigate the accounts and practices of the fiscal agent and enter orders concerning the accounts and practices. (Terminates December 31, ~~1999~~ 2001—sec. 41, Ch. 349, L. 1997.)"

"69-3-844. (Temporary) Contributions to fund. (1) The fiscal agent shall collect contributions from all telecommunications carriers on a ~~quarterly~~

monthly basis, based on a July 1 to June 30 fiscal year. Initial contributions to the fund may only be collected for the 2-month period prior to the effective dato of distributions from the fund and must be calculated as follows:

(a) determine the total retail revenue for all telecommunications carriers for the iinmediateiy preceding calendar year;

(b) determine the total funds needed for distributions in the next fiscal year as authorized pursuant to 69-3-845;

(c) compute a uniform percentage of the amount determined in subsection (1)(a) that will produce an amount equal to the fund total calculated in subsection (1)(b);

(d) adjust the percentage multiplier computed in subsection (1)(c) to recover or reimburse any fund shortfalls or excesses in the previous fiscal year, including uncollectibles, new providers seeking support, cost of administration, and auditing; and

(e) send notice of the current uniform percentage and appropriate remittance forms to each telecommunications carrier at least 2 months prior to the effective date of the application of the percentage.

(2) The commission shall adopt procedural rules to govern collection of the contributions required by this section, as weli as rules allowing the fiscai agent and daily administrater to assess late fees and interest on delinquent payments from telecommunications carriers. The fiscal agent is specifically authorized to enforce the contribution requirements of this section through suit in the district courts of Montana.

(3) Any reduction in telecommunications carrier access expenses because of the removal of implicit subsidies inherent in telecommunications carrier access rates must be passed through to Montana end-user customer retail rates. (Terminates December 31, ~~1999~~ 2001~~—sec. 41, Ch. 349, L. 1997.~~)"

Seetion 3. Section 69-3-845, MCA, is amended to read:

"69-3-845. (Temporary) Distributions from fund — calculation of eosts. (1) Subject to the requirements of this section, payments from the fund niust be made from collected contributions by the fiscal agent to qualifying eligible telecommunications carriers, on a monthly basis, pursuant to rules adopted by the coinmission.

(2) Only eiigible telecommunications carriers that offer the telecommunications services described in 69-3-842(1) to all customers in a designated support area and that advertise the availability of the telecommunications services and the charges for the telecommunications services using media of general distribution may receive support from the fund for the designated support area.

(3) Distributions must be calculated for the designated support areas established by the commission. In the case of an area served by a rural telephone company, the term "designated support area" means the rural telephone company's Montana service area unless the rural telephone company voluntarily adopts a proxy model for the calculation of the rural telephone company's cost of telecommunications services under subsection (6). After adoption of a proxy model, the rural telephone company's designated support area inust be an area designated by the commission, which may be smaller than a wire center. The term designated support area for all other telecommunications carriers means a geographic area as established by the commission, which must he smaller than a wire center.

(4) Support for the services listed in 69-3-842(1) must he calculated as the difference hetween the costs determined in each designated support area and the affordabihity benchmark in that support area. The commission shall adopt rules to determine affordability benchmarks.

(5) Except as provided in subsection (6), for rural telephone companies and other eligible telecommunications carriers offering services in a designated support area served by a rural telephone company, the average cost for each line must be calculated and submitted, based on the preceding calendar year, to the fiscal agent as follows:

(a) If an additional eligible telecommunications carrier has not been designated pursuant to 69-3-840(3), the rural telephone company's total unseparated loop cost, as defined by federal separation rule methodology in effect on December 31, 1996, must be added to the switching costs, local transport costs, and customer operations costs assigned to the telecommunications services set forth in 69-3-842(1), which must be calculated using the methodology set forth in federal communications commission jurisdictional separation rules in effect as of December 31 of each calendar year. This total cost must be reduced by any federal universal service support, interstate allocation of loop costs, and loop costs recovered through intrastate telecommunications carrier common line charges to long-distance companies.

(b) Upon the designation of an additional eligible telecommunications carrier pursuant to 69-3-840(3) in a designated support area served by a rural telephone company, the additional eligible telecommunications carrier has access to the fund on the same basis as the rural telephone company. Upon the designation of the additional eligihle telecommunications carrier, both the carrier and the rural telephone company must receive distributions from the fund based upon the rural telephone company's average cost for each line disaggregated to geographic areas smaller than a wire center. The support for each line for each geographic area must be based upon the rural telephone company's costs, as determined in subsection (5)(a), distributed to each of the geographic areas on the basis of relative distribution factors established by a cost proxy model adopted by the commission.

(6) Except as provided in subsection (5)(h), for companies that are not rural telephone companies and for rural telephone companies voluntarily electing to use a cost proxy model, the average cost for each line in designated support areas must be calculated based on the cost proxy model adopted by the commission. This total per-line cost must be reduced by any federal universal service support, interstate allocation of loop costs, and loop costs recovered through intrastate telecommunications carrier common line charges to long-distance companies.

(7) In determining any proxy mechanism under this section, the commission shall use a model that:

(a) targets support to a geographic area smaller than a wire center;

(b) uses acceptable outside plant design and costing principles;

(c) uses reasonable switch design and costing principles;

(d) includes a reasonahle share of the joint and common costs of the telecommunications carrier;

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 629 1999

(e) meets standards for documenting model logic and the sources of cost data input; and

(f) meets reasonahleness tests to ensure that model outputs are representative of costs that can be reasonably expected in the construction of a network and that the network is capable of providing telecommunications services that meet the telecommunications services quality standards of the commission and federal regulators.

(8) An eligible telecommunications carrier providing telecommunications services through resale of another telecommunications carrier's telecommunications services or facilities may not receive support for those telecommunications services or facilities if the rates charged to an eligihle telecommunications carrier by the other telecommunications carrier have been reduced by a contribution from universal service funds under this section.

(9) Costs of administering the fund must be paid from the fund. (Terminates December 31, ~~1999~~ 2001—sec. 41, Ch. 349, L. 1997.)"

Section 4. Section 41, Chapter 349, Laws of 1997, is amended to read:

(3) Before a petition may be circulated for signatures, a sample sheet containing the text of the proposed measure must be submitted to the secretary of state in the form in which it will be circulated. The sample petition may not be submitted to the secretary of state more than 1 year prior to the final date for filing the signed petition with the ~~secretary of state~~ county election administrator. The secretary of state shall refer a copy of the petition sheet to the attorney general for approval. The secretary of state and attorney general shall each review the petition for sufficiency as to form and approve or reject the form of the petition, stating the reasons for rejection, if any. The attorney general shall also review the petition as to its legal sufficiency. If the attorney general determines that the petition is legally deficient, the attorney general shall notify the secretary of state of that fact and provide a copy of the determination to the secretary of state and to the petitioner within the time provided in 13-27-312(8). The petition may not be given final approval by the secretary of state unless the attorney general's determination is overruled pursuant to 13-27-316. As used in this section, "legal sufficiency" means that the petition complies with the statutory prerequisites to submission of the proposed measure to the electors and that the text of the proposed measure complies with constitutional requirements governing submission of ballot measures to the electorate. Review of a petition for legal sufficiency does not include consideration of the merits or application of the measure if adopted by the voters. The secretary of state or the attorney general may not reject the petition solely because the text contains material not submitted to the legislative services division unless the material not submitted to the legislative services division is a substantive change not suggested by the legislative services division.

(4) (a) The secretary of state shall review the comments and statements of the attorney general received pursuant to 13-27-312 and make a final decision as to the approval or rejection of the ~~form of the~~ petition.

(b) The secretary of state shall send written notice to the person who submitted the petition sheet of the approval or rejection of the form of the petition within 28 days after submission of the petition sheet. The secretary of state shall send written notice to the person who submitted the petition sheet of the final approval or rejection of the petition within 5 days of:

(i) the date on which a final court decision is entered under 13-27-316 if a challenge to the attorney general's review of the petition is filed pursuant to that section; or

(ii) the expiration of the time for filing a challenge to the attorney general's review under 13-27-316 if no challenge is filed. If the petition is rejected, the notice must include reasons for rejection.

(5) A petition with technical defects in form may be approved with the condition that those defects will be corrected before the petition is circulated for signatures.

(6) The secretary of state shall upon request provide the person submitting the petition with a sample petition form, including the text of the proposed measure, the statement of purpose, and the statements of implications, all as approved by the secretary of state and the attorney general. The petition may be circulated in the form of the sample prepared by the secretary of state. The petition may be circulated upon approval of the form of the petition by the secretary of state and the attorney general pending a final determination of its legal sufficiency."

Section 2. Section 13-27-208, MCA, is amended to read:

"13-27-208. Petitions to be made available in each county election administrator's office. The election administrator shall make a copy of each approved petition available for reading and signing in ~~his~~ the administrator's office during business hours in an election year until the petitions are submitted under 13-27-301. The secretary of state may charge the person who submitted the petition a fee sufficient to reimburse the secretary of state for the cost of providing copies of the petition and signature sheets to each county election administrator."

Section 3. Section 13-27-312, MCA, is amended to read:

The budget director, in cooperation with the agency or agencies affected by the petition, is responsible for preparing the fiscal note and shall return it within 6 days unless the attorney general, for good cause shown, extends the time for completing the fiscal note.

(2) If the petition ~~form~~ form is approved, the attorney general shall endeavor to seek out parties on both sides of the issue and obtain their advice. The attorney general shall prepare:

(a) a statement, not to exceed 100 words, explaining the purpose of the measure; and

(b) statements, not to exceed 25 words each, explaining the implications of a vote for and a vote against the measure.

(3) The attorney general shall prepare a fiscal statement of no more than 50 words if a fiscal note was prepared for the proposed ballot issue, such statement to be used on the petition and ballot if the measure is placed on the ballot.

(4) The statement of purpose and the statements of implication must express the true and impartial explanation of the proposed ballot issue in plain, easily understood language and may not be arguments or written so as to create prejudice for or against the measure.

(7) If the petition is rejected as to form, the attorney general shall forward ~~his~~ the comments to the secretary of state within 21 days after receipt of the petition by the attorney general. If the petition is approved as to form, the attorney general shall forward the statement of purpose, the statements of implication, and the fiscal statement, if applicable, to the secretary of state within 21 days after receipt of the petition by the attorney general.

(8) If the petition is approved as to form, within 30 days of the approval, the attorney general shall forward to the secretary of state the determination regarding legal sufficieney, as provided in 13-27-202."

Seetion 4. Section 13-27-316, MCA, is amended to read:

"13-27-316. Court review of attorney general opinion or statements. (1) If the proponents of a ballot measure believe that the statement of purpose, the statements of implication of a vote, or the fiscal statement formulated by the attorney general pursuant to 13-27-312 do not satisfy the requirements of 13-27-312, or believe that the attorney general was incorrect in determining that the petition was legally deficient, they may, within 10 days of receipt of the notice from the secretary of state or of the attorney general's determination regarding legal sufficiency provided for in 13-27-202, file an action in the district court in and for the county of Lewis and Clark challenging the adequacy of the statement or the attorney general's determination and requesting the court to alter the statement or modify the attorney general's determination.

(2) If the opponents of a ballot measure believe that the statement of purpose, the statements of implication of a voto, or the fiscal statement formulated by the attorney general pursuant to 13-27-312 do not satisfy the requirements of 13-27-312, or believe that the attorney general was incorrect in determining that the petition was legally sufficient, they may, within 10 days of the date of certification to the governor that the completed petition has been officially filed, file an action in the district court in and for the county of Lewis and Clark challenging the adequacy of the statement or the attorney general's conclusion and requesting the court to alter the statement or overrule the attorney general's determination concerning the legal sufficiency of the petition.

(3) (a) Notice ~~shall~~ must be served upon the secretary of state and upon the attorney general. The action takes precedence over other cases and matters in the district court. The court shall examine the proposed measure and the challenged statement or determination of the attorney general and shall as soon as possible render a decision and certify to the secretary of state a statement which the court determines will meet the requirements of 13-27-312 or an opinion as to the correctness of the attorney general's determination.

(b) A statement certified by the court ~~shall~~ must be placed on the petition for circulation and on the official ballot.

(4) A copy of the petition in final form must be filed in the office of the secretary of state by the proponents.

Section 5. Section 75-5-301, MCA, is amended to read:

"75-5-301. Classification and standards for state waters. Consistent with the provisions of 80-15-201 and this chapter, the board shall:

(1) establish the classification of all state waters in accordance with their present and future most beneficial uses, creating an appropriate classification for streams that, due to sporadic flow, do not support an aquatic ecosystem that includes salmonid or nonsalmonid fish;

(2) (a) formulate and adopt standards of water quality, giving consideration to the economics of waste treatment and prevention. When rules are adopted regarding temporary standards, they must conform with the requirements of 75-5-312.

(b) Standards adopted by the board must meet the following requirements:

(i) for carcinogens, the water quality standard for protection of human health must be the value associated with an excess lifetime cancer risk level, assuming continuous lifetime exposure, not to exceed 1 x 10-3 in the case of arsenic and 1 x 10-5 for other carcinogens. However, if a standard established at a risk level of 1 x 10-3 for arsenic or 1 x 10-5 for other carcinogens violates the maximum contaminant level obtained from 40 CFR, part 141, then the maximum contaminant level must be adopted as the standard for that carcinogen.

(ii) standards for the protection of aquatic life do not apply to ground water.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 642 1999

(3) review, from time to time at intervals of not more than 3 years and, to the extent permitted by this chapter, revise established classifications of waters and adopted standards of water quality;

(4) adopt rules governing the granting of mixing zones, requiring that mixing zones granted by the department be specifically identified and requiring that mixing zones have:

(a) the smallest practicable size;

(b) a minimum practicable effect on water uses; and

(c) definable boundaries;

(5) adopt rules implementing the nondegradation policy established in 75-5-303, including but not limited to rules that:

(a) provide a procedure for department review and authorization of degradation;

(b) establish criteria for the following:

(i) determining important economic or social development; and

(ii) weighing the social and economic importance to the public of allowing the proposed project against the cost to society associated with a loss of water quality;

(c) establish criteria for determining whether a proposed activity or class of activities, in addition to those activities identified in 75-5-317, will result in nonsignificant changes in water quality for any parameter in order that those activities are not required to undergo review under 75-5-303(3). These criteria must be established in a manner that generally:

(i) equates significance with the potential for harm to human health or the environment;

(ii) considers both the quantity and the strength of the pollutant;

(iii) considers the length of time the degradation will occur;

(iv) considers the character of the pollutant so that greater significance is associated with carcinogens and toxins that bioaccumulate or biomagnify and lesser significance is associated with substances that are less harmful or less persistent.

(d) provide that changes of nitrate as nitrogen in ground water are nonsignificant if the discharge will not cause degradation of surface water and the predicted concentration of nitrate as nitrogen at the boundary of the ground water mixing zone does not exceed:

(i) 7.5 milligrams per liter ~~for nitrate as nitrogen~~ from sources other than ~~domestic~~ sewage;

(ii) 5.0 milligrams per liter ~~for domestic~~ from sewage ~~effluent~~ discharged from a ~~conventional septic~~ system that does not use level two treatment in an area where the ground water nitrate as nitrogen is 5.0 milligrams per liter or less;

(iii) 7.5 milligrams per liter ~~for domestic~~ from sewago ~~effluent~~ discharged from a ~~septic~~ system using level two treatment, which must be defined in the rules; or

(iv) 7.5 milligrams per liter ~~for domestic~~ from sewage ~~effluent~~ discharged from a ~~conventional septic~~ system in areas where the ground water nitrate as nitrogen level exceeds 5.0 milligrams per liter primarily from sources other than human waste.

(6) to the extent practicable, ensure that the rules adopted under subsection (5) establish objective and quantifiable criteria for various parameters. These criteria must, to the extent practicable, constitute guidelines for granting or denying applications for authorization to degrade high-quality waters under the policy established in 75-5-303(2) and (3).

(7) adopt rules to implement this section."

Section 6. Section 75-6-109, MCA, is amended to read:

"75-6-109. Administrative enforcement. (1) If the department believes that a violation of this part, a rule adopted under this part, or a condition of approval issued under this part has occurred, it may serve written notice of the violation, by certified mail, on the alleged violator or the violator's agent. The notice must specify the provision of this part, the rule, or the condition of approval alleged to have been violated and the facts alleged to constitute a violation. The notice must include an order to take necessary corrective action within a reasonable period of time. The time period must be stated in the order. Service by mail is complete on the date of filing.

(2) If the alleged violator does not request a hearing before the board within 30 days of the date of service, the order becomes final. Failure to comply with a final order may subject the violator to an action commenced pursuant to 75-6-104, 75-6-113, or 75-6-114.

(3) If the alleged violater requests a hearing before the board within 30 days of the date of service, the board shall schedule a hearing. After the hearing is held, the board may:

(a) affirm or medify the department's order issued under subsection (1) if the board finds that a violation has occurred; or

(b) rescind the department's order if the board finds that a violation has not occurred.

(4) An order issued by the department or the board may set a date by which the violation must cease and set a time limit for action to correct a violation.

(5) As an alternative to issuing an order pursuant to subsection (1), the department may:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 15-16-119, MCA, is amended to read:

"15-16-119. Taxation of personal property — duty of department — collection by department of administration. (1) If the taxes on personal property are not a lien upon real property in the same county in an amount sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes, the department shall assess the property and compute the tax for the assessment. The department shall notify the county treasurer of the assessment and the amount of taxes due. To compute the taxes due on the personal property, the department shall use the appropriate mills levied during the previous year.

(2) The county treasurer shall notify the person against whom the tax is assessed and any other person having a properly perfected security interest of record of the amount and due date of the tax. The tax is due and payable 30 days from the date the treasurer mails the notice. Taxes not paid within 30 days become delinquent, and the penalty and interest provisions of 15-16-101 must be applied.

(3) The county treasurer shall, after the tax becomes delinquent, either proceed under subsection (7) or levy upon and take into possession the personal property against which a tax is assessed or any other personal property in the hands of the delinquent taxpayer. The county treasurer may proceed to sell the property in the same manner as property is sold on execution by the sheriff.

(4) The county treasurer shall, for the purpose of making the levy and sale, direct the sheriff to make the levy and sale. The sheriff, undersheriff, or any deputy sheriff of the county is ex officio a deputy county treasurer for sale purposes and may receive payment of the taxes, penalty, and interest. The sheriff ~~may receive the same fees as for making a seizure and sale as provided in 15-17-911~~ is entitled to the fees, mileage, and costs as provided in 7-32-2141 and 7-32-2143, which must be assessed against the delinquent taxpayer.

(5) The county treasurer and the treasurer's sureties are liable on the treasurer's official bond for all taxes on personal property remaining uncollected by reason of the willful failure and neglect of the treasurer to levy upon and sell the personal property for the taxes levied upon the property, including penalty and interest.

(6) Failure by the sheriff, undersheriff, or deputy sheriff acting as a deputy county treasurer to make the levy and sale results in a levy against the official bond of the sheriff, undersheriff, or deputy sheriff for payment of the delinquent tax, including penalty and interest.

(7) The county treasurer shall give the board of county commissioners a list of delinquent personal property taxpayers and the taxes due. The board may order the county treasurer to verify the list under oath and to send a copy of the list to the department of administration for collection under Title 17, chapter 4, part 1.

(8) The provisions of this section do not apply to property for which delinquent property taxes have been suspended or canceled under the provisions of Title 15, chapter 24, part 17."

Section 2. Section 15-16-401, MCA, is amended to read:

"15-16-401. Tax due as a judgment or lien. Unless suspended or canceled under the provisions of Title 15, chapter 24, part 17, every tax has the effect of a judgment against the person, and every lien created by this title has the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all personal property in the possession of the person assessed from and after the date the assessment is made. The county treasurer may issue a writ of execution for delinquent personal property taxes, unless suspended or canceled under the provisions of Title 15, chapter 24, part 17, and deliver the writ to the sheriff *of any county in the state in which the property or some part of the property is located. nor the lien removed until the taxes are paid or the property sold for the payment ~~thereof~~ of the taxes."

Section 3. Section 15-17-911, MCA, is amended to read:

"15-17-911. Sale of personal property for delinquent taxes — fee — disposition of proceeds — unsold property. (1) The tax on personal property may be collected and payment enforced by the seizure and sale of any personal property in the possession of the person assessed. Seizure and sale are authorized at any time after the date the taxes become delinquent or by the institution of a civil action for its collection in any court of competent jurisdiction. A resort to one method does not bar the right to resort to any other method. Any of the methods provided may be used until the full amount of the tax is collected.

(2) The provisions of 15-16-119 and this section apply to a seizure and sale under subsection (1).

(3) (a) A sale under subsection (1) must be:

(i) conducted at public auction;

(ii) conducted under the provisions of 25-13-701(1)(b); and

(4) (a) ~~For seizing and selling personal property, the~~ The county treasurer shall charge $25 or a fee set by the county commissioners, plus ~~the mileage allowance provided by law to the sheriff, plus reasonable expenses for seizing, handling, keeping, or caring for any property seized. The charge and other costs may be charged only when property is actually seized and offered for sale or sold~~ the cost, as defined in 15-17-121, of the collection of delinquent personal property taxes. The cost must be assessed against the delinquent taxpayer and is in addition to any sheriff's fees, mileage, and costs charged under subsection (4)(b).

(b) The sheriff is entitled to the fees, mileage, and costs as provided in 7-32-2141 and 7-32-2143, which must be assessed against the delinquent taxpayer.

(5) On payment of the price bid for any property sold as provided in this section, delivery of the property, with a bill of sale, vests the title of the property in the purchaser.

(6) (a) After sale of the property, the proceeds of the sale must be used first to reimburse the county for all costs and charges incurred in seizing the property and conducting the sale. Any excess, up to the total amount of the taxes owed, must be distributed proportionally to the funds that would have received the taxes if they had been paid before becoming delinquent. Any remaining excess, up to the amount of the penalty and interest owed, must then be distributed proportionally to the fund that would have received the penalty and interest if they had been paid in full.

(b) Any money collected in excess of the delinquent tax, penalties, interest, costs, and charges must be returned to the person owning the property prior to the sale, if known. If the porson does not claim the excess immediately following the sale, the treasurer shall deposit the money in the county treasury for a period of 1 year from the date of sale. If the porson has not claimed the excess within 1 year from the date of sale, the county treasurer shall deposit the amount in the county general fund and the porson has no claim to it.

(7) Any property seized for the purpose of liquidating a delinquency by a tax sale that remains unsold following a sale may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the owner.

(8) The provisions of this section do not apply to property for which delinquent property taxes have been suspended or canceled under the provisions of Title 15, chapter 24, part 17.

(9) The county commission, in its discretion, may cancel any personal property taxes, including penalty, interest, costs, and charges that remain unsatisfied after the property upon which the taxes were assessed had been seized and sold. [SB 235]

AN ACT SPECIFYING CRITERIA FOR A PRESUMPTION OF NONABANDONMENT FOR MUNICIPAL WATER RIGHTS IN WATERS CLASSIFIED AS "A-CLOSED"; AMENDING SECTION 85-2-227, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, waters classified A-Closed pursuant to ARM 17.30.621 represent the highest quality waters in Montana; and

WHEREAS, almost all A-Closed drainages originate in remote, largely inaccessible, alpine settings that afford maximum natural protection for water quality; and

WHEREAS, there is either no hahitation or development or extremely limited habitation or development in A-Closed drainages; and

WHEREAS, the existing municipal water rights in each of those drainages have been used for municipal supply purposes and will he needed in many of the drainages; and

WHEREAS, the high elevation alpine settinge of A-Closed drainages provide gravity flowing systems that reduce the need for pumping facilities and related energy costs for Montana citizens; and

WHEREAS, the superior mineral, radiological, and microbiological quality of A-Closed waters renders them especially suitable as a raw source of municipal drinking water; and

WHEREAS, there are few gravity flow alternative sources for high quality municipal water, and therefore the loss of the right to use these high quality waters would result in the loss of a unique and irreplaceable natural resource.

THEREFORE, the 56th Legislature of tbe State of Montana finds that it is appropriate to enact legislation to establish a limited presumption of nonahandonment for municipal water rights situated in A-Closed basins.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 85-2-227, MCA, is amended to read:

"85-2-227. Claim to constitute prima facie evidence — relevant evidence — abandonment — criteria for presumption of municipal nonabandonment. (1) For purposes of adjudicating rights pursuant to this part, a claim of an existing right filed in accordance with 85-2-221 or an amended claim of existing right constitutes prima facie proof of its content until the issuance of a final decree. For purposes of administering water rights, the provisions of a temporary preliminary decree or a preliminary decree, as modified after objections and hearings, supersede a claim of existing right until a final decree is issued.

(2) A water judge may consider all relevant evidence in the determination and interpretation of existing water rights. Relevant evidence under this part may include admissible evidence arising before or after July 1, 1973.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 689 1999

(3) A Subject to the provisions of subsection (4), a water judge may determine all or part of an existing water right to be abandoned based on a consideration of all admissible evidence that is relevant, including, without limitation, evidence relating to acts or intent occurring in whole or in part after July 1, 1973.

(4) In a determination of abandonment made under subsection (3), the legislature finds that a water right that is claimed for municipal use from a water classified by the board of environmental review before January 1, 1999, as A-Closed under administrative rule is a unique water suited to municipal water use and that such a claim by a city, town, or other public or private entity that operates a public water supply system, as defined in 75-6-102, is presumed to not be abandoned if the city, town, or other private or public entity has used any part of the water right or municipal water supply and there is admissible evidence that the city, town, or other public or private entity also has:

(a) obtained a filtration waiver under the federal Safe Drinking Water Act, 42 U.S.C. 300(f), et seq.;

(b) acquired, constructed, or regularly maintained diversion or conveyance structures for the future municipal use of the water right;

(c) conducted a formal study, prepared by a registered professional engineer or qualified consulting firm, that includes a specific assessment that using the water right for municipal supply is feasible and that the amount of the water right is reasonable for foreseeable future needs; or

(d) maintained facilities connected to the municipal water supply system to apply the water right to an emergency or supplemental municipal water supply."

Section 2. Severability. If a part of [this act] is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of [this act] is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

[SB 15]

AN ACT CLARIFYING THE COMPUTATION OF THE BUSINESS EQUIPMENT TAX RATE REDUCTION REIMBURSEMENT TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT TAXING JURISDICTIONS; AMENDING SECTION 15-1-112, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE AND A RETROACTIVE APPLICABILITY DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 15-1-112, MCA, is amended to read:

"15-1-112. Business cquipment tax rate reduction reimbursement to local government taxing jurisdictions. (1) On or before January 1, 1996, for the reduction in payment under subsection (4) and by June 1 of 1996, 1997, and 1998, for all other reimbursements in this section, the department of revenue shall determine a reimbursement amount associated with reducing the tax rate in 15-6-138 and provide that information to each county treasurer. The reimbursement amount must be determined for each local government taxing jurisdiction that levied mills on the taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 in the corresponding tax year. However, the reimbursement does not apply to property described in 15-6-138 that has a reduced tax rate under 15-24-1402.

(2) (a) The reimbursement amount to be used as the basis for the payment reduction under subsection (4) is the product of multiplying the tax year 1995 taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 for each local government taxing jurisdiction by the tax year 1995 mill levy for the jurisdiction and then multiplying by 1/9th.

(b) (i) The reimbursement amount for each local government taxing jurisdiction for tax year 1996 is the amount determined under subsection (2)(a) unless the tax year 1996 market value of property described in 15-6-138, for the particular local government taxing jurisdiction, is more than the tax year 1995 market value for property described in 15-6-138 in the same jurisdiction.

(ii) If the tax year 1996 market value is greater than the tax year 1995 market value for a particular jurisdiction, then the reimbursement amount for tax year 1996 is the result of subtracting the simulated 1996 tax from the 1995 tax. The 1995 tax is the tax for the particular jurisdiction, determined by multiplying the actual taxable valuation of property described in 15-6-138, for tax year 1995, by the tax year 1995 mill levy for the jurisdiction. The simulated 1996 tax for the particular jurisdiction is the actual tax year 1996 taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 multiplied by the tax year 1995 mill levy for the particular jurisdiction. If the simulated 1996 tax is greater than the 1995 tax, the reimbursement amount is zero.

(c) (i) The reimbursement amount for each local government taxing jurisdiction for tax year 1997 is the amount determined under subsection (2)(a) multiplied by two unless the tax year 1997 market value of property described in 15-6-138, for the particular local government taxing jurisdiction, is more than the tax year 1995 market value for property described in 15-6-138 in the same jurisdiction.

(ii) If the tax year 1997 market value is greater than the tax year 1995 market value for a particular jurisdiction, then the reimbursement amount for tax year 1997 is the result of subtracting the simulated 1997 tax from the 1995 tax. The 1995 tax is the tax for the particular jurisdiction, determined by multiplying the actual taxable valuation of property described in 15-6-138, for tax year 1995, by the tax year 1995 mill levy for the jurisdiction. The simulated 1997 tax for the particular jurisdiction is the actual tax year 1997 taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 multiplied by the tax year 1995 mill levy for tbe particular jurisdiction. If the simulated 1997 tax is greater than the 1995 tax, the reimbursement amount is zero.

(d) (i) The reimbursement amount for each local government taxing jurisdiction for tax year 1998 is the amount determined under subsection (2)(a) multiplied by three unless the tax year 1998 market value of property described in 15-6-138, for the particular local government taxing jurisdiction, is more tban the tax year 1995 market value for property described in 15-6-138 in the same jurisdiction.

(ii) If the tax year 1998 market value is greater than the tax year 1995 market value for a particular jurisdiction, then the reimbursement amount for tax year 1998 is the result of subtracting the simulated 1998 tax from the 1995 tax. The 1995 tax is the tax for the particular jurisdiction, determined by multiplying the actual taxable valuation of property described in 15-6-138, for tax year 1995, by the tax year 1995 mill levy for the jurisdiction. The simulated 1998 tax for the particular jurisdiction is the actual tax year 1998 taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 multiplied by the tax year 1995 mill levy for tbe particular jurisdiction. If the simulated 1998 tax is greater than the 1995 tax, the reimbursement amount is zero.

(3) (a) For purposes of this section, "local government taxing jurisdiction" means a local government rather than a state taxing jurisdiction that levied mills against property described in 15-6-138, including county governments, incorporated city and town governments, consolidated county and city governments, tax increment financing districts, local elementary and high school districts, local community collego districts, miscellaneous districts, and special districts. (23) classify all violations of city ordinances as civil infractions, with civil penalties, as provided in [section 2]; and

~~(23)~~(24) exercise powers not inconsistent with law necessary for effective administration of authorized services and functions."

Section 2. Municipal infractions — civil offense. (1) A municipal infraction is a civil offense punishable by a civil penalty of not more than $300 for each violation or if the infraction is a repeat offense, a civil penalty not to exceed $500 for each repeat violation.

(2) A municipality may by ordinance provide that a violation of an ordinance is a municipal infraction.

(3) A municipality may not provide that a violation of an ordinance is a municipal infraction if the violation is a criminal offense under state law.

(4) An officer who is authorized by a municipality to enforce a municipal code or regulation may issue a civil citation to a person who commits a municipal infraction. The citation may be served by personal service, by certified mail addressed to the defendant at the defendant's last known mailing address, return receipt requested, or by publication, as provided in Rule 4D(5), M.R.Civ.P. A copy of the citation must be retained by the issuing officer and one copy must be sent to the clerk of the municipal or city court. The citation must serve as notification that a municipal infraction has been committed and must contain the following information:

(a) the name and address of the defendant;

(b) the name or description of the infraction attested to by the officer issuing the citation;

(c) the location and time of the infraction;

(d) the amount of civil penalty to be assessed or the alternate relief sought, or both;

(e) the manner, location, and time in which the penalty may be paid;

(f) the time and place of court appearance; and

(g) the penalty for failure to appear in court.

Section 3. Municipal infractions — proceedings. (1) In municipal infraction proceedings:

(a) the matter must be tried before a municipal court judge or city court judge in the same manner as a small claim if the total amount of civil penalties does not exceed $3,000. The matter may only be tried before a judge in district court if the total amount of civil penalties assessed exceeds $3,000.

(b) the city has the burden of proof that the municipal infraction occurred and that the defendant committed the infraction. The proof must be by clear and convincing evidence.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 774 1999

(c) the court shall ensure that the defendant has received a copy of the charges and that the defendant understands the charges. The defendant may question all witnesses who appear for the municipality and produce evidence or witnesses on the defendant's behalf.

(d) the defendant may be represented by counsel of the defendant's own choosing and at tbe defendant's own expense;

(e) the defendant may answer by admitting or denying the infraction;

(f) if a municipal infraction is proven, the court shall enter a judgment against the defendant. If the infraction is not proven, the court shall dismiss the charges. Eacb day that a violation occurs or is permitted to exist by the defendant constitutes a separate infraction.

(2) All penalties or forfeitures collected by the court for municipal infractions must be remitted to the municipality in the same manner as fines and forfeitures collected for criminal offenses. If the person named in the citation is served as provided in [section 2] and fails without good cause to appear in response to the civil citation, judgment must be entered against the person.

(3) A person against whom judgment is entered shall pay court costs and fees as in small claims court under Title 25, chapter 35. If the action is dismissed by the court, the municipality is liable for the court costs and court fees.

(4) Seeking a civil penalty as authorized in this section does not preclude a municipality from seeking alternative relief from the court in the same action.

(5) When judgment has been entered against a defendant, the court may do any of the following:

(b) direct that payment of the civil penalty be suspended or deferred under conditions imposed by the court;

(c) grant appropriate alternative relief ordering tbe defendant to abate or cease the violation;

(1) A municipal court judge or city court judge has jurisdiction to assess or enter judgment for costs of abatement or correction in any amount not to exceed the jurisdictional amount for a money judgment in a civil action pursuant to 3-11-103. If the municipality seeks abatement or correction costs in excess of that amount, the matter must be referred to the district court for hearing and entry of an appropriate order. The procedure for hearing in the district court shall be the same procedure as that for a small claims appealed under 25-35-803.

(2) The defendant or the municipality may file a motion for a new trial or may appeal the decision to district court. A factual determination made by the trial court, supported by substantial evidence as shown in the record, is binding for purposes of appeal relating to the violation at issue, but is not admissible or binding as to any future violations for the same or similar ordinance provision by the same defendant.

(3) Except for willful or wanton misconduct on the part of the municipality, the issuance of a civil citation for a municipal infraction or the ensuing court proceedings do not provide an action for false arrest, false imprisonment, or malicious prosecution.

(4) An action brought pursuant to this section for a municipal infraction that is an environmental violation does not preclude, and is in addition to, any other enforcement action that may be brought under state law.

Section 5. Codification instruction. [Sections 2 through 4] are intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 7, chapter 1, part 41, and the provisions of Title 7, chapter 1, part 41, apply to [sections 2 through 4].

AN ACT REQUIRING A PERSON DEVELOPING A GROUND WATER SOURCE OF 35 GALLONS A MINUTE OR LESS, WHEN THE SOURCE IS ON ANOTHER PERSON'S LAND, TO NOTIFY THE OTHER LANDOWNER IN ADVANCE OF THE PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT AND APPROPRIATION; AMENDING SECTION 85-2-306, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 85-2-306, MCA, is amended to read:

"85-2-306. Exceptions to permit requirements. (1) Ground water may be appropriated only by a person who has a possessory interest in the property where the water is to be put to beneficial use and exclusive property rights in the ground water development works or, if another person has rights in the ground water development works, with the written consent of the person with those property rights. If the person does not have a possessory interest in the real property from which the ground water may be appropriated, the person shall provide to the owner of the real property written notification of the works and the person's intent to appropriate ground water from the works. The written notification must be provided to the landowner at least 30 days prior to constructing any associated works or, if no new or expanded works are proposed, 30 days prior to appropriating the water. Outside the boundaries of a controlled ground water area, a permit is not required before appropriating ground water by means of a well or developed spring with a maximum appropriation of 35 gallons ~~per~~ a minute or less, not to exceed 10 acre-feet ~~per~~ a year, except that a combined appropriation from the same source from two or more wells or developed springs exceeding this limitation requires a permit. Within 60 days of completion of the well or developed spring and appropriation of the ground water for beneficial use, the appropriator shall file a notice of completion with the department on a form provided by the department at its offices and at the offices of the county clerk and recorders. Upon receipt of the notice, the department shall review the notice and may, before issuing a certificate of water right, return a defective notice for correction or completion, together with the reasons for returning it. A notice does not lose priority of filing because of defects if the notice is corrected, completed, and refiled with the department within 30 days or within a further time as the department may allow, not to exceed 6 months. If a notice is not corrected and completed within the time allowed, the priority date of appropriation is the date of refiling a correct and complete notice with the department. A certificate of water right may not he issued until a correct and complete notice has been filed with the department, including proof of landowner notification as necessary under this subsection. The original of the certificate must be sent to the appropriator. The department shall keep a copy of the certificate in its office in Helena. The date of filing of the notice of completion is the date of priority of the right.

(2) An appropriator of ground water hy means of a well or developed spring first put to beneficial use between January 1, 1962, and July 1, 1973, who did not file a notice of completion, as required by laws in force prior to April 14, 1981, with the county clerk and recorder shall file a notice of completion, as provided in subsection (1), with the department to perfect the water right. The filing of a claim pursuant to 85-2-221 is sufficient notice of completion under this subsection. The priority date of the appropriation is the date of the filing of a notice, as provided in subsection (1), ~~of this section~~ or the date of the filing of the claim of existing water right. An appropriation under this subsection is an existing right, and a permit is not required~~; however~~. However, the department shall acknowledge the receipt of a correct and complete filing of a notice of completion, except that for an appropriation of 35 gallons ~~per~~ a minute or less, not to exceed 10 acre-feet ~~per~~ a year, the department shall issue a certificate of water right. If a certificate is issued under this section, a certificate need not be issued under the adjudication proceedings provided for in 85-2-236.

(3) A permit is not required before constructing an impoundment or pit and appropriating water for use by livestock if the maximum capacity of the impoundment or pit is less than 15 acre-feet and the appropriation is less than 30 acre-feet ~~per~~ a year and is from a source other than a perennial flowing stream and the impoundment or pit is to be constructed on and will be accessible to a parcel of land that is owned or under the control of the applicant and that is 40 acres or larger. As used in this subsection, "perennial flowing stream" means a stream that historically has flowed continuously during all seasons of the year, during dry as well as wet years. However, within 60 days after constructing the impoundment or pit, the appropriator shall apply for a permit as prescribed by this part. Upon receipt of a correct and complete application for a stockwater provisional permit, the department shall then automatically issue a provisional permit. If the department determines after a hearing that the rights of other appropriators have been or will be adversely affected, it may revoke the permit or require the permittee to modify the impoundment or pit and may then make the permit subject to terms, conditions, restrictions, or limitations that it considers necessary to protect the rights of other appropriators.

(4) A person may also appropriate water without applying for or prior to receiving a permit under rules adopted by the department under 85-2-113."

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Section 61-2-302, MCA, is amended to read:

"61-2-302. Establishment of driver rehabilitation and improvement program — participation by offending drivers. (2) Official participation in the driver rehabilitation and improvement program is limited to those persons ~~who are not subject to an ignition interlock restriction imposed under 61-8-442 and~~ whose license to operate a motor vehicle in the state of Montana is:

(a) subject to suspension or revocation as a result of a violation of the traffic laws of this state or, unless otherwise provided by the sentencing court, a violation of 45-5-624; or

(b) revoked and they have:

(4) In the event that a person's driver's license has been surrendered before the person's selection for participation in the driver rehabilitation and improvement program, the license may be returned upon receipt of the person's agreement to participate in the program.

(5) The stay of enforcement of any suspension or revocation order must be terminated and the order of suspension or revocation enforced if a person declines to participate in the driver rehabilitation and improvement program or fails to meet the attendance or other requirements established for participation in the program.

(6) This part does not create a right to be included in any program established under this part.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 806 1999

(2) Charges in subsection (1) must be computed at the applicable rates on the full, original principal amount of the loan from the date of the loan to the due date of the final scheduled installment irrespective of the fact that the loan is payable in installments. The charges must be added to the principal of the loan and may not be discounted or deducted from the principal or paid or received at the time the loan is made. For the purpose of computing charges for a fraction of a month, a day is considered one-thirtieth of a month.

scheduled. For all loans that may be subject to this section, charges are computed initially in the same manner used to determine the annual percentage rate.

(4) If the contract so provides, the additional charge for any amount past due according to the original torms of the contract, whether by reason of default or extension agreement, may be 5% of the amount past due, and that amount may be charged only once.

(7) Subsections (2), (3), and (6) of this section apply only to loans on which charges are made on an add-on basis and do not apply to loans on which charges are made on an interest-bearing basis.

(8) If a consumer loan is prepaid in whole or in part for any reason, including after a default, prior to the final payment due date and the amount of prepayment exceeds 10% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan, a licensee may charge a prepayment charge as follows:

(a) 10% of the then-outstanding principal balance of the loan if the prepayment occurs during the first 6 months after the date of the loan;

[HB 629]

AN ACT DIRECTING THE DEPARTMENT OF FISH, WILDLIFE, AND PARKS TO CONDUCT A COMPREHENSIVE STUDY OF BLACKFOOT RIVER USE AND CONFLICT AND REPORT THE DEPARTMENT'S FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS TO THE 57TH LEGISLATURE.

WHEREAS, Montana's rivers are drawing people to the state to fish, float, and camp at an accelerating rate; and

WHEREAS, although the increasing popularity of Montana is beneficial to the state's economy, steps must be taken to ensure that escalating recreational use of natural resources does not degrade the resource, taint the experience, or threaten private property rights; and

WHEREAS, with the unparalleled scenery and the abundance of fish, osprey, bald eagles, deer, and other wildlife sustained by its waters, the Blackfoot River in western Montana offers recreationists a unique, pristine outdoor experience; and

WHEREAS, the same attributes that bring floaters, campers, and anglers to the banks of the Blackfoot River to visit have attracted Montana families to live, work, and recreate for over a hundred years; and

WHEREAS, increased use of the river has led to an increase in the frequency and intensity of conflicts among the landowner, the commercial outfitter, and the private recreationist, each of whom has a legitimate and legal interest in the Blackfoot River; and

WHEREAS, cooperation between private property owners and recreationists to resolve conflict along the Blackfoot River is not unprecedented; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature finds it appropriate and timely to direct the Department of Fish, Wildlife, and Parks te lead a comprehensive study of the Blackfoot River and its capacity to sustain recreational use, while ensuring that private property and water rights are retained with minimal conflict.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Blackfoot River study. (1) The department of fish, wildlife, and parks shall undertake a comprehensive study of the Blackfoot River, which may include ongoing department studies as well as findings derived from the draft Blackfoot River Recreation Management Direction of 1999.

(2) The study must address:

(a) the growing popularity of the Blackfoot River and ways to mitigate conflict among landowners, outfitters, and private recreationists;

(b) ways to protect the integrity of the river's resources, while continuing to accommodate recreational use;

(c) the amount and scope of use by recreationists that the river is capable of sustaining;

(d) easement, right-of-way, access, and trespass concerns between private landowners and public users of the river;

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 828 1999

(e) the impact that heavy recreational use has on the river's fish, wildlife, streambanks, and water quality; and

(f) any other issue that the department determines needs to be examined in order to complete tbe study.

(3) During the course of the study, the department may enlist the assistance of the governor's consensus council, created pursuant to executive order, to organize discussions among all interested parties.

(4) The department shall report its findings and conclusions to the 57th legislature. The report must include but is not limited to:

(a) a suggested appropriate role for the department and tbe fish, wildlife, and parks commission in mitigating and mediatlng conflicts between recreationists and private landowners;

(b) the amount and type of use that is taking place on the river and how that use is changing from the historical recreational use of the river;

(c) the amount of use that tbe river is capable of sustaining before significant resource degradation occurs;

(d) a description of the amount, nature, and location of conflicts occurring on the river that have warranted intervention;

(e) the steps taken to ensure that landowners, outfitters, and members of the public were afforded the opportunity to comment and participate in the study; and

(f) suggosted legislation or department rules, if either are warranted, to alleviate conflict, preserve the integrity of the resource, protect private property rights, and ensure continued high-quality fishing, camping, and floating for commercial and private recreational users.

AN ACT REQUIRING THE BOARD OF PHARMACY TO ADOPT RULES PROVIDING FOR THE REGISTRATION OF AMBULATORY SURGICAL FACILITIES AS ENTITIES ALLOWED TO POSSESS DANGEROUS DRUGS PURSUANT TO TITLE 50, CHAPTER 32, PART 3, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, Title 50, chapter 32, MCA, requires the Department of Commerce to administer a program under rules adopted by the Board of Pharmacy providing for the registration of persons and institutions that may manufacture, distribute, or administer dangerous drugs; and

WHEREAS, it is the registration system under Title 50, chapter 32, part 3, MCA, that allows hospitals, physicians, and other porsons and health care institutions that have legitimate uses for dangerous drugs to possess or administer those drugs; and

WHEREAS, section 50-32-101(12), MCA, provides for a category of a possessor of dangerous drugs known as a "distributor", who is a person or facility that receives dangerous drugs from one registered source and makes them available to another person who is also registered under the law; and

WHEREAS, institutions, such as hospitals and other health care facilities, that do not themselves prescribe or administer dangerous drugs but do receive those drugs from one source and make them available to a physician to administer to a patient are registered pursuant to Title 50, chapter 32, part 3, MCA, as a "distributor", as defined in section 50-32-101(12), MCA; and

WHEREAS, Montana is seeing the development of new and expanding types of health care facilities intended to fill the growing needs of a category of patients who require surgery but do not require hospitalization and who may therefore have surgery performed at an ambulatory surgical facility, soon to be called an "outpatient center for surgical services" pursuant to the terms of Senate Bill No. 116; and

WHEREAS, few if any of the existing ambulatory surgical facilities have themselves been registered for the possession of dangerous drugs because most existing facilities are operationally connected to hospitals or physicians who already have a registration issued by the Department of Commerce; and

WHEREAS, the rules adopted by the Board of Pharmacy pursuant to section 50-32-103(2), MCA, and administered by the Department of Commerce do not provide for the registration of ambulatory surgical facilities or outpatient centers for surgical services as distributors or any other class of registered entity; and

WHEREAS, the registration of ambulatory surgical facilities or outpatient centers for surgical services to allow the facilities or centers to make drugs available for preoperation, operation, and postoperation surgical purposes will provide health care consumers with greater options for the performance of outpatient surgery; and

WHEREAS, the registration of ambulatory surgical facilities or outpatient centers for surgical services will not increase the possibility that dangerous drugs will be used by unauthorized persons because an ambulatory surgical facility or outpatient center for surgical services must still receive those drugs from a registered distributor and because physicians or other persons registered to administer or prescribe drugs will still need to administer or prescribe the drugs possessed by an ambulatory surgical facility or outpatient facility for surgical services.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Board to adopt rules for registration of ambulatory surgical facilities. (1) The board shall, by October 1, 1999, adopt rules to provide for the registration of ambulatory surgical facilities pursuant to Title 50, chapter 32, part 3. The rules must categorize ambulatory surgical facilities as a "distributor" pursuant to 50-32-101(12) or other category of registrant as determined by the board.

(2) If the board determines that ambulatory surgical facilities require the services of a pharmacist in order to be registered, the board shall allow those facilities to use the services of a consulting pharmacist to satisfy the obligation imposed by the board.

(3) This section does not affect any existing requirement that persons providing dangerous drugs to an ambulatory surgical facility or persons administering dangerous drugs within or as the result of procedures performed at an ambulatory surgical facility be registered pursuant to Title 50, chapter 32, part 3.

Section 2. Codification instruction. [Section 1] is intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 50, chapter 32, and the provisions of Title 50, chapter 32, apply to [section 1].

Section 3. Effective date. [This act] is effective on passage and approval.

[SB 452]

AN ACT CLARIFYING SECURITY INTERESTS IN LIQUOR LICENSES; REQUIRING THAT THE DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE BE GIVEN NOTICE WITHIN 7 DAYS OF A DEFAULT OF A SECURITY INTEREST IN A LIQUOR LICENSE; PROVIDING FOR THE TRANSFER OF OWNERSHIP OR LAPSE TO NONUSE STATUS OF DEFAULTED LIQUOR LICENSES; AND PROVIDING AN IMMEDIATE EFFECTIVE DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. Security iuterest in liquor license. (1) (a) A security interest in a liquor license is an interest in the liquor license that secures payment or performance of an obligation. A contract for the sale of a liquor license, including a provision allowing the seller to retain an ownership interest in the license solely for the purpose of guaranteeing payment for the license, may, for the purposes of this section, be treated as a security interest.

(b) For the purposes of this section:

(i) "default" means that:

(A) the defaulting party has acknowledged in writing pursuant to the terms of a written security agreement or contract for sale that the defaulting party no longer has any ownership interest or any other rights to possess or control the liquor license; or

(B) a court of competent jurisdiction has made an order foreclosing all of the defaulting party's interests in the license; and

(ii) "liquor license" means a license issued under Title 16, chapter 4.

(2) The department, after review of the underlying documents creating the security interest, may approve a transfer of ownership of a liquor license subject to a security interest as provided in subsection (1). A person holding a security interest may not have any control in the operation of the business operated under a license subject to a security interest nor may that person share in the profits or the liabilities of the business other than the payment or performance of the licensee's obligation under a security agreement.

(3) (a) Within 7 days of a default by a licensee, the person holding the security interest shall give notice to the department of the licensee's default and either apply to have the license transferred to that person, subject to that person meeting the requirements of 16-4-401 and all other applicable provisions of this code, or the person shall place the license on nonuser status. Upon receipt of an application to transfer the license, the department may, pursuant to 16-4-404, grant the applicant temperary authority to operate the license. If the person holding the license places the license on nonuser status, the person shall transfer ownership of the license within 180 days from the date on which the notice of the default was given to the department. The operation of a business under a license by a person holding a security interest for more than 7 days after default of the licensee or without temporary authority issued by the department must be considered to be a violation of this code and constitutes grounds for the department to either deny an application for transfer of the license or for the revocation of the license pursuant to 16-4-406.

(b) If the person holding the security interest does not qualify for or cannot qualify for ownership of a liquor license under 16-4-401, the secured party shall transfer ownership of the liquor license within 180 days of the notice of the default of the licensee.

(c) The department, upon a showing of good cause, may in its discretion extend the time for sale of the license for an additional period of up to 180 days.

Section 2. Codification instruction. [Section 1] is intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 16, chapter 4, and the provisions of Title 16, chapter 4, apply to [section 1].

Section 3. Effective date. [This act] is effective on passage and approval.

(2) The spouse of an owner of a plot containing more than one interment space has a vested right to be interred in the plot, and a person becoming the spouse of the plot owner has a vested right to be interred in the plot if an interment space not subject to the vested right of interment for previous spouses is unoccupied at the time that the person becomes the spouse of the owner.

(3) A conveyance or other action of the owner without the written consent or joinder of the spouse of the owner may not divest the spouse of a vested right of interment, except that a final decree of dissolution of marriage between the owner and the spouse terminates the vested right of interment unless otherwise provided in the decree.

(4) If an interment is not made in a plot that has been transferred by deed or certificate of ownership to an individual owner or if all remains previously interred in the plot are lawfully removed, the plot descends upon the death of the owner to the owner's heirs-at-law, subject to the rights of interment of the decedent and the owner's surviving spouse unless the owner has disposed of the plot either in a will by a specific devise or by a written declaration filed and recorded in the office of the mausoleum-columbarium authority.

(5) Mausoleum or columbarium property passing to an individual by reason of the death of the owner is exempt from all inheritance taxes.

(2) In a family plot, one crypt or one niche or interment space in the family plot may be used for the owner's interment and one for the owner's surviving spouse, if any, who by law has a vested right of interment in it. Of those crypts, niches, or spaces remaining, if any, the parents and children of the deceased owner in order of death may be interred without the consent of any person claiming an interest in the plot.

(3) If a parent or child is not surviving, the right of interment goes in the order of death first to the spouse of any child of the record owner and second in the order of death to the next heirs-at-law of the owner or the spouse of any heir-at-law.

(4) A surviving spouse, parent, child, or heir having a right of interment in a family plot may waive the right in favor of any other relative or spouse of a relative of the deceased owner, and upon the waiver, the remains of the person in whose favor the waiver is made may be interred in the plot.

Section 16. Termination of right of interment — limitation on right. (1) A vested right of interment is terminated upon interment elsewhere of the person with the vested right.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 852 1999

(2) A vested right of interment does not give to any person the right to have the person's remains interred in any interment space in which the remains of any deceased person having a prior vested right of interment have been interred or the right to have the remains of more than one deceased person interred in a single interment space in violation of the rules of the mausoleum-columbarium authority controlling the operation of the mausoleum or columbarium in which the interment space is located.

Section 17. Conveyance to mausoleum-columbarium authority by plot owner. A mausoleum-columbarium authority may take and hold any plot conveyed or devised to it by the plot owner so that it will be inalienable, and interments must be restricted to the persons designated in the conveyance or devise.

(2) Upon the death of a joint tenant, the title to the plot held in joint tenancy immediately vests in the survivors, subject to the vested right of interment of the remains of the deceased joint tenant.

(3) An affidavit by any person having knowledge of the facts setting forth the fact of the death of one joint tenant and establishing the identity of the surviving joint tenants named in the deed to any plot, when filed with the mausoleum-columbarium authority operating the mausoleum-columbarium in which the plot is located, is a complete authorization to the mausoleum-columbarium authority to permit the use of the unoccupied portion of the plot in accordance with the directions of the surviving joint tenants or their successors in interest.

Section 19. Co-owners — mausoleum-columbarium authority liability. (1) When there are several owners of a plot or of rights of interment in the plot, the owners may designate one or more persons to represent the plot and file written notice of the designation with the mausoleum-columbarium authority.

(2) The mausoleum-columbarium authority in charge of any mausoleum or columbarium in which interments are made shall keep a record of all remains, including cremated remains, interred on the premises under its charge, in each case stating the name of each deceased person, date of interment, and name and address of the funeral director.

(2) Upon payment of the purcbase price and the amount fixed as a proportionate contribution for endowment care, there may be included in the deed of conveyance or in a separate instrument an agreement to care, in accordance with the plan adopted, for the mausoleum or columbarium and its appurtenances to the proportionate extent that the income received by the mausoleum-columbarium authority from the contribution will permit.

(3) Upon the application of the owner of any plot and upon the payment by the owner of the amount fixed as a reasonable and proportionate contribution for endowment care, a mausoleum-columbarium authority may enter into an agreement with the owner for the care of the owner's plot and its appurtenances.

levied mills on the taxable value of property described in 15-6-136 in the corresponding tax year.

(2) (a) The reimbursement amount for each taxing jurisdiction for the current tax year is equal to the lesser of the maximum reimbursement amount determined in subsection (2)(b) or the amount calculated using the formula RA = (1999 TV - Current Year TV) x 1999 ML, where:

(e) The reimbursement amount for each taxing jurisdiction for tax year 2003 and tax years beginning after tax year 2003 is the amount determined by multiplying the 1999 taxable value by the 1999 mill levy.

Section 26. Reimbursement for class eight exemption and rate reduction. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a local government taxing jurisdiction must be reimbursed for losses of revenue due to the progressive tax exemption granted by 15-6-138. The reimbursement provided in this section is in addition to other statutory reimbursements.

(2) On or before June 1 of each tax year, the department of revenue shall determine a reimbursement amount associated with the loss in revenue caused by the exemption and tax rate reduction of class eight property and provide that information to each county treasurer. The department of revenue shall determine the reimbursement amount for each local government taxing jurisdiction that levied mills on the taxable value of property described in 15-6-138 in the corresponding tax year. However, the reimbursement does not apply to property described in 15-6-138 that has a reduced tax rate under 15-24-1402.

(3) (a) The department shall calculate the reimbursement amount for each year by subtracting the estimated taxes that would have been assessed against class eight property for the corresponding tax year from the total taxes assessed against class eight property by a local government taxing jurisdiction for the 1999 tax year.

(b) The estimated taxes that would have been assessed against class eight property of a local government taxing jurisdiction for any given tax year are calculated as follows:

(i) For each taxpayer who reported class eight property in the local government taxing jurisdiction for the 1999 tax year, subtract the taxpayer's progressive exemption applicable to the corresponding tax year from the total market value of class eight property reported in the local government taxing jurisdiction during the 1999 tax year.

(ii) Multiply the amount determined in subsection (3)(b)(i) by the tax rate provided in 15-6-138 for the current tax year and the mills levied by each local government taxing jurisdiction for the 1999 tax year.

(4) (a) For purposes of this section, "local government taxing jurisdiction" means a local government rather than a state taxing jurisdiction that levied mills against property described in 15-6-138, including county governments, incorporated city and town governments, consolidated county and city governments, local elementary and high school districts, local community college districts, miscellaneous districts, and special districts. For purposes of calculating the reimbursement, the local government shall include countywide mills levied for equalization of school retirement or transpertation, but may not include tax increment financing districts or county or state school equalization levies provided for in 20-9-331, 20-9-333, and 20-9-360 or the university levy provided for in [section 1 of Senate Bill No. 79]. It also may not include any state levy for welfare programs provided for in 53-2-813.

(b) Tax increment financing districts may not receive a reimbursement under this section.

(c) The county treasurer shall use any reimbursement funds received under this section to reimburse each local government taxing jurisdiction in the amount determined by the department under subsection (2). The reimbursement must be distributed to funds within local government taxing jurisdictions in the same manner as taxes on property described in 15-6-138 are distributed.

(d) Each local government taxing jurisdiction receiving reimbursements shall consider the amount of reimbursement that will be received and lower the mill levy otherwise necessary to fund the budget by the amount that would otherwise have to be raised by the mill levy.

(5) A local government taxing jurisdiction that ceases to exist after December 31, 1999, will no longer be considered for revenue loss or reimbursement purposes. A local government taxing jurisdiction that is created after January 1, 2000, will not be considered for revenue loss or reimbursement purposes. If a local government taxing jurisdiction that existed prior to January 2000 is split between two or more taxing jurisdictions or is annexed to or is consolidated with another taxing jurisdiction, the department shall determine how much of the revenue loss and reimbursement is attributed to the new jurisdictions.

(6) The reimbursement in this section is statutorily appropriated as provided in 17-7-502.

Section 27. Repealer. (1) Sections 15-6-136, 15-24-901, 15-24-920, 15-24-926, 15-24-927, and 15-24-931, MCA, are repealed.

(2) Section 15-6-138, MCA, is repealed.

If a part of [this act] is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

Section 4. Section 72-2-811, MCA, is amended to read:

"72-2-811. Disclaimer of property interests. (1) (a) A person or the representative of a person to whom an interest in or with respect to property or an interest in the property devolves by whatever means may disclaim it in whole or in part by delivering or filing a written disclaimer under this section.

(b) The right to disclaim exists notwithstanding:

(i) any limitation on the interest of the disclaimant in the nature of a spendthrift provision or similar restriction; or

(ii) any restriction or limitation on the right to disclaim contained in the governing instrument.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (1), the "representative of a person" includes a personal representative of a decedent; a conservator of a disabled person; a guardian of a minor or incapacitated person; a guardian ad litem of a minor, an incapacitated person, an unborn person, an unascertained person, or a person whose identity or address is unknown; and an agent acting on behalf of the person within the authority of a power of atterney. The representative of a person may rely on a general family benefit accruing to the living members of the represented person's family as a basis for making a disclaimer.

(2) The following rules govern the time when a disclaimer must be filed or delivered:

(a) If the property or interest has devolved to the disclaimant under a testamentary instrument or by the laws of intestacy, the disclaimer must be filed, if of a present interest, not later than 9 months after the death of the deceased owner or deceased donee of a power of appointment and, if of a future interest, not later than 9 months after the event determining that the taker of the property or interest is finally ascertained and the taker's interest is indefeasibly vested. The disclaimer must be filed in the court of the county in which proceedings for the administration of the estate of the deceased owner or deceased donee of the power have been commenced. A copy of the disclaimer must be delivered in person or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, to any personal representative or other fiduciary of the decedent or donee of the power.

(b) If a property or interest has devolved to the disclaimant under a nontestamentary instrument or contract, the disclaimer must be delivered or filed, if of a present interest, not later than 9 months after the effective date of the nontestamentary instrument or contract and, if of a future interest, not later than 9 months after the event determining that the taker of the property or interest is finally ascertained and the taker's interest is indefeasibly vested. If the person entitled to disclaim does not know of the existence of the interest, the disclaimer must be delivered or filed not later than 9 months after the person learns of the existence of the interest. The effective date of a revocable instrument or contract is the date on which the maker no longer has power to revoke it or to transfer to the maker or another the entire legal and equitable ownership of the interest. The disclaimer or a copy of the disclaimer must be delivered in person or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person who has legal title to or possession of the interest disclaimed.

(c) A surviving joint tenant may disclaim as a separate interest any property or interest in property devolving to the surviving joint tenant by right of survivorship within 9 months after the death of the deceased joint owner,

regardless of whether the surviving joint tenant contributed to the purchase of jointly held property or benefitted from the jointly held property prior to the other joint tenant's death. ~~A surviving joint tenant may disclaim the entire interest in any property or interest in the property that is the subject of a joint tenancy devolving to the joint tenant if the joint tenancy was created by act of a deceased joint tenant, the survivor did not join in creating the joint tenancy, and the survivor has not accepted a benefit under it.~~

(d) If real property or an interest in the property is disclaimed, a copy of the disclaimer may be recorded in the office of the clerk and recorder of the county in which the property or interest disclaimed is located.

(3) The disclaimer must:

(a) describe the property or interest disclaimed;

(h) declare the disclaimer and extent of the disclaimer; and

(c) be signed by the disclaimant.

(4) The following are the effects of a disclaimer:

(a) If property or an interest in property devolves to a disclaimant under a testamentary instrument, under a power of appointment exercised hy a testamentary instrument, or under the laws of intestacy and the decedent has not provided for another disposition of that interest, should it be disclaimed, or of disclaimed or failed interests in general, the disclaimed interest devolves as if the disclaimant had predeceased the decedent, but if by law or under the testamentary instrument the descendants of the disclaimant would share in the disclaimed interest by representation or otherwise were the disclaimant to predecease the decedent, then the disclaimed interest passes by representation, or passes as directed by the governing instrument, to the descendants of the disclaimant who survive the decedent. A future interest that takes effect in possession or enjoyment after the termination of the estate or interest disclaimed takes effect as if the disclaimant had predeceased the decedent. A disclaimer relates back for all purposes to the date of the death of the decedent.

(b) If property or an interest in property devolves to a disclaimant under a nontestamentary instrument or contract and the instrument or contract does not provide for another disposition of that interest, should it he disclaimed, or of disclaimed or failed interests in general, the disclaimed interest devolves as if the disclaimant had predeceased the effective date of the instrument or contract, but if by law or under the nontestamentary instrument or contract the descendants of the disclaimant would share in the disclaimed interest by representation or otherwise were the disclaimant to predecease the effective date of the instrument, then the disclaimed interest passes by representation, or passes as directed by the governing instrument, to the descendants of the disclaimant who survive the effective date of the instrument. A disclaimer relates back for all purposes to that date. A future interest that takes effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the termination of the disclaimed interest takes effect as if the disclaimant had died before the effective date of tbe instrument or contract that transferred the disclaimed interest.

(c) The disclaimer or the written waiver of the right to disclaim is binding upon the disclaimant or person waiving and on all persons claiming through or under either of them.

(5) The right to disclaim property or an interest in the property is barred by:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 905 1999

(a) an assignment, conveyance, encumbrance, pledge, or transfer of the property or interest or a contract therefor;

(b) a written waiver of the right to disclaim;

(c) an acceptance of the property or interest or benefit under it; or

(d) a sale of the property or interest under judicial sale made before the disclaimer is made.

(6) This section does not abridge the right of a person to waive, release, disclaim, or renounce property or an interest in property under any other statute.

(7) An interest in property that exists on October 1, 1993, as to which, if a present interest, the time for filing a disclaimer under this section has not expired or, if a future interest, the interest has not become indefeasibly vested or the taker finally ascertained may be disclaimed within 9 months after October 1, 1993."

[HB 645]

AN ACT GENERALLY REVISING FUND STRUCTURE LAWS TO INCLUDE INVESTMENT TRUST FUND TYPES WITHIN THE FIDUCIARY FUND CATEGORY; ALLOWING A FUND TYPE RATHER THAN AN ACCOUNTING ENTITY TO HAVE A NEGATIVE BALANCE AT ANY POINT IN A FISCAL YEAR; PROVIDING THAT, IF POSSIBLE, LONG-TERM LOANS MUST BE MADE FROM FUNDS OTHER THAN THE GENERAL FUND; AMENDING SECTIONS 17-2-102 AND 17-2-107, MCA; AND PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

The financial activities of the special revenue fund type are subdivided, for operational purposes, into the following funds to serve the purpose indicated:

(A) The state special revenue fund consists of money from state and other nonfederal sources depesited in the state treasury that is earmarked for the purposes of defraying particular costs of an agency, program, or function of state government and money from other nonstate or nonfederal sources that is restricted by law or by the terms of an agreement, such as a contract, trust agreement, or donation.

The financial activities of the current fund are subdivided, for operational purposes, into the four following subfunds to serve the purpose indicated:

(A) The unrestricted subfund segregates that portion of the current fund's financial resources that can be expended for general operations and is free of externally imposed restrictions, except those imposed by the legislature.

(B) The restricted subfund segregates that portion of the current fund's financial resources that can be expended for general operations but only for purposes imposed by sources external to the board of regents and the legislature.

(2) A transferee of a distributional interest may become a member of a limited liability company if and to the extent that the transferor gives the transferee the right in accordance with authority described in writing in the operating agreement or if all other members consent.

(3) A transferee who has become a member, to the extent transferred, has the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a member under the operating agreement of a limited liability company and the provisions of this chapter. (2) The court may appoint a receiver of the share of the distributions due or to become due to a judgment debtor and make all other orders, directions, accounts, and inquiries that the judgment debtor may have made or that the circumstances require to give effect to the charging order.

The court may order a foreclosure of a lien on a distributional interest subject to the charging order at any time. A purchaser of the distributional interest at a foreclosure sale has the rights of a transferee.

(4) At any time before foreclosure, a distributional interest that is charged may be redcemed:

(a) by the judgment debtor;

(b) by one or more of the other members with property other than the company's; or

(c) with the company's property if permitted by the operating agreement.

(5) This section provides the exclusive remedy by which a judgment creditor of a member or a transferee may satisfy a judgment out of the judgment debtor's distributional interest in a limited liability company."

Section 31. Member's power to dissociate — wrongful dissociation. (1) Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a member has the power to dissociate from a limited liability company at any time, rightfully or wrongfully, pursuant to [section (30)(1)].

(2) If the operating agreement has not eliminated a member's power to dissociate, the member's dissociation from a limited liability company is wrongful only if:

(a) it is in breach of an express provision of the agreement; or

(b) before the expiration of the specified term of a term company:

(c) the member's duty of loyalty under [section 17(2)(a) and (2)(b)] and duty of care under [section 17(3)] continue only with regard to matters arising and events occurring before the member's dissociation, unless the member participates in winding up the company's business pursuant to 35-8-903.

Section 33. Company purchase of distributional interest. (1) A limited liability company shall purchase a distributional interest of a:

(a) member of an at-will company for its fair value determined as of the date of the member's dissociation if the member's dissociation does not result in a dissolution and winding up of the company's business under 35-8-901; or

(b) member of a term company for its fair value determined as of the date of the expiration of the specified term that existed on the date of the member's dissociation if the expiration of the specified term does not result in a dissolution and winding up of the company's business under 35-8-903.

(2) A limited liability company shall deliver a purchase offer to the dissociated member whose distributional interest is entitled to be purchased not later than

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 948 1999

30 days after the date determined under subsection (1). The purchase offer must be accompanied by:

(a) a statement of the company's assets and liabilities as of the date determined under subsection (1);

(b) the latest available balance sheet and income statement, if any; and

(c) an explanation of how the estimated amount of the payment was calculated.

(3) If the price and other terms of a purchase of a distributional interest are fixed or are to be determined by the operating agreement, the price and terms so fixed or determined govern the purchase unless the purchaser defaults. If a default occurs, the dissociated member is entitled to commence a proceeding to have the company dissolved under 35-8-902(1)(d).

(4) If an agreement to purchase the distributional interest is not made within 120 days after the date determined under subsection (1), the dissociated member, within another 120 days, may commence a proceeding against the limited liability company to enforce the purchase. The company, at its expense, shall notify in writing all of the remaining members and any other person that the court directs of the commencement of the proceeding. The jurisdiction of the court in which a proceeding is commenced under this subsection is plenary and exclusive.

(5) The court shall determine the fair value of the distributional interest in accordance with the standards set forth in [section 34], together with the terms for the purchase. Upon making these determinations, the court shall order the limited liability company to purchase or cause the purchase of the interest.

(6) Damages for wrongful dissociation under [section 31(2)] and all other amounts owing, whether or not currently due, from the dissociated member to a limited liability company, must be offset against the purchase price.

Section 34. Court action to determine fair value of distributional interest. (1) In an action brought to determine the fair value of a distributional interest in a limited liability company, the court shall:

(a) determine the fair value of the interest, considering among other relevant evidence the going concern value of the company, any agreement among some or all of the members fixing the price or specifying a formula for determining value of distributional interests for any other purpose, the recommendations of any appraiser appointed by the court, and any legal constraints on the company's ability to purchase the interest;

(b) specify the terms of the purchase, including, if appropriate, terms for installment payments, subordination of the purchase obligation to the rights of the company's other creditors, security for a deferred purchase price, and a covenant not to compete or other restriction on a dissociated member; and

(c) require the dissociated member to deliver an assignment of the interest to the purchaser upon receipt of the purchase price or the first installment of the purchase price.

(2) After the dissociated member delivers the assignment, the dissociated member has no further claim against the company, its members, officers, or managers, if any, other than a claim to any unpaid balance of the purchase price or a claim under any agreement with the company or the remaining members that is not terminated by the court.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 949 1999

(3) If the purchase is not completed in accordance with the court's specified terms, the company is to be dissolved upon application under 35-8-902(1)(d). If a limited liability company is so dissolved, the dissociated member has the same rights and priorities in the company's assets as if the sale of the distributional interest had not been ordered.

(4) If the court finds that a party to the proceeding acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith, it may award one or more other parties reasonable expenses, including attorney fees and the expenses of appraisers or other experts, incurred in the proceeding. The finding may be based on the company's failure to make an offer to pay or to comply with [section 33(2)].

(5) Interest must be paid on the amount awarded from the date determined under [section 33(1)] to the date of payment.

Section 35. Dissociated member's power to bind limited liability company. For 2 years after a member dissociates without the dissociation resulting in a dissolution and winding up of a limited liability company's business, the company, including a surviving company under part 12 of this chapter, is bound by an act of the dissociated member that would have bound the company under 35-8-301 before dissociation only if at the time of entering into the transaction the other party:

(1) reasonably believed that the dissociated member was then a member;

(2) did not have notice of the member's dissociation; and

(3) is not considered to have had notice under [section 36].

Section 36. Statement of dissociation. (1) A dissociated member or a limited liability company shall file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of dissociation, stating the name of the company and that the member is dissociated from the company.

(2) For the purposes of 35-8-301 and [section 35], a person not a member is considered to have notice of the dissociation 90 days after the statement of dissociation is filed.

Section 37. Section 35-8-901, MCA, is amended to read:

"35-8-901. Dissolution. (1) A limited liability company is dissolved and its affairs must be wound up when one of the following occurs:

~~(1)~~(a) at the time or upon the occurrence of events specified in writing in the articles of organization or operating agreement;

~~(2) the written consent of all members;~~

(b) consent of the number or percentage of members specified in the operating agreement;

(c) an event that makes it unlawful for all or substantially all of the business of the company to be continued, but any cure of illegality within 90 days after notice to the company of the event is effective retroactively to the date of the event for purposes of this section;

(d) the expiration of the term specified in the articles of organization; or

~~(4)~~(e) entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under 35-8-902.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), a limited liability company continues after dissolution only for the purpose of winding up its business.

(3) At any time after the dissolution of a limited liability company and before the winding up of its business is completed, the members, including a dissociated member whose dissociation caused the dissolution, may unanimously waive the right to have the company's business wound up and the company terminated. In that case:

(a) the limited liability company resumes carrying on its business as if dissolution had never occurred, and any liability incurred by the company or a member after the dissolution and before the waiver is determined as if the dissolution had never occurred; and

(b) the rights of a third party accruing under the provisions of 35-8-904(1) or arising out of conduct by the third party in reliance on the dissolution before the third party knew or received a notification of the waiver are not adversely affected."

Section 38. Section 35-8-902, MCA, is amended to read:

"35-8-902. Judicial dissolution. (1) On application by or for a member or a dissociated member, a district court may order dissolution of a limited liability company, or other appropriate relief, when: ~~it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with the articles of organization or operating agreement.~~

(b) another member has engaged in conduct relating to the company's business that makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the company's business with that member remaining as a member;

(c) it is not otherwise reasonably practicable to carry on the company's business in conformity with the articles of organization and the operating agreement;

(d) the company failed to purchase the petitioner's distributional interest as required by [section 32]; or

(e) the members or managers in control of the company have acted, are acting, or will act in a manner that is illegal, oppressive, fraudulent, or unfairly prejudicial to the petitioner.

(2) On application by a transferee of a member's interest, a district court may determine that it is equitable to wind up the company's business:

(a) after the expiration of the specified term, if the company was for a specified term at the time that the applicant became a transferee by member dissociation, transfer, or entry of a charging order that gave rise to the transfer; or

(b) at any time, if the company was at will at the time that the applicant became a transferee by member dissociation, transfer, or entry of a charging order that gave rise to the transfer."

Section 39. Section 35-8-904, MCA, is amended to read:

(a) by an act appropriate for winding up the limited liability company's affairs or completing transactions unfinished at dissolution; and

(b) by any transaction that would have bound the limited liability company, if it had not been dissolved, if the other party to the transaction does not have notice of the dissolution.

(2) The filing of the articles of ~~dissolution~~ termination is presumed to constitute notice of dissolution for purposes of subsection (1)(b).

(3) An act of a member that would not otherwise be binding on the limited liability company under subsection (1) is binding if it is authorized by the limited liability company.

(4) An act of a member that would be binding under subsection (1) or would be otherwise authorized and that is in contravention of a restriction on authority may not bind the limited liability company to persons having knowledge of the restriction.

(5) If the articles of organization vest management of the limited liability company in managers, a manager may exercise the authority of a member under subsection (1) and a member may not exercise the authority if the member is acting solely in the capacity of a member.

(6) A member or manager who, with knowledge of the dissolution, subjects a limited liability company to liability by an act that is not appropriate for the winding up of the company's business is liable to the company for any damage caused by the act."

Section 40. Section 35-8-905, MCA, is amended to read:

(4) For purposes of this section, "claim" does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of the dissolution or termination."

Section 43. Section 35-8-909, MCA, is amended to read:

"35-8-909. Unknown claims against dissolved or terminated limited liability companies. (1) Subject to 35-8-908 and subsections (2) through (5) of this section, the dissolution or termination of a limited liability company, including dissolution by the expiration of its term, does not take away or impair any remedy available to or against the limited liability company or its members or managers for any claim or right, whether or not the claim or right existed or accrued prior to dissolution or termination. Section 44. Involuntary dissolution — procedure. (1) A limited liability company that is guilty of any of the actions or omissions described in 35-8-209(1) is in default. By reason of the default, the limited liability company may be involuntarily dissolved by order of the secretary of state, thereby forfeiting its right to transact any business in this state.

(2) On or before September 1 of each year, the secretary of state shall compile a list of defaulting limited liability companies, together with the amount of any filing fee, penalty, or costs remaining unpaid.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 955 1999

Section 45. Reinstatement following administrative dissolution. (1) A limited liability company administratively dissolved may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within 5 years after the effective date of dissolution. (3) When reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution, and the company may resume its business as if the administrative dissolution had not occurred.

Section 48. Derivative actions — proper plaintiff — pleading — expenses. (4) If a derivative action for a limited liability company is successful, in whole or in part, or if anything is received by the plaintiff as a result of a judgment, compromise, or settlement of an action or claim, the court may award the plaintiff reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, and shall direct the plaintiff to remit to the limited liability company the remainder of the proceeds received.

(ii) an asset-backed security that:

(A) relies on cash flows from assets that are prepayable at par at any time;

(B) does not make payments of par that are fixed as to amount and timing; and

(C) has a negative rate of return at the time of acquisition if a prepayment threshold assumption is used with the prepayment threshold assumption defined as either:

(I) two times the prepayment expectation reported by a recognized, publicly available source as being the median of expectations contributed by broker dealers or other entities, except insurers, engaged in the business of selling or evaluating the securities or assets. The prepayment expectation used in this calculation must be, at the insurer's election, the prepayment expectation for passthrough securities of the federal national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or the government national mortgage association or for other assets of the same type as the assets that underlie the asset-backed security, in either case with a gross weighted average coupon comparable to the gross weighted average coupon of the assets that underlie the asset-backed security.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 983 1999

(v) an asset-backed security that relies on collateral that meets the requirements of subsection (1)(h)(ii), the par value of which collateral:

(A) is not permitted to be paid sooner than one-half of the remaining term to maturity from the date of acquisition;

(B) is permitted to he paid prior to maturity only at a premium sufficient to provide a yield to maturity for the investment, considering the amount prepaid and reinvestment rates at the time of early repayment, at least equal to the yield to maturity of the initial investment; or

(C) is permitted to be paid prior to maturity at a premium at least equal to the yield of a treasury issue of comparable remaining life; or

(vi) an asset-backed security that relies on cash flows from assets that are not prepayable at any time at par, but is not otherwise governed by subsection (1)(b)(v), if the asset-backed security has a par value reflecting principal payments to be received if held until retired by or on behalf of the issuer and is purchased at a price no greater than 105% of the par amount.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), if the asset-backed security is purchased in combination with one or more other asset-backed securities that are supported by identical underlying collateral, the insurer may calculate the rate of return for these specific combined asset-backed securities in combination. (d) The limitations of [sections 14 and 21] do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1)(d), effect may not be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of the insurer's admitted assets.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in tbe transaction as of that date. If at any time tbe market value of the acceptable collateral is less tban 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection witb the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of tbe securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities baving a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty is obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of tbis section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

Section 21. Foreign investments and foreign currency exposure. (1) Subject to the limitations of [section 14], an insurer may acquire foreign investments or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions if the investments or investment practices are of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is permitted to acquire under [sections 1 through 36], other than of the type permitted under [section 16] and if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of foreign investments then beld by the insurer under this subsection (1):

(a) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations of [section 14], an insurer may acquire investments or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired under subsection (1) or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency, if the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in:

(i) foreign currencies does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets; and

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 995 1999

(ii) the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(b) However, an investment under subsection (2)(a) may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under [section 22] and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of [section 14].

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (3) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of [section 14] if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (3) may not exceed the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by the law of the foreign jurisdiction to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

(ii) 115% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(4) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of [section 14]. However, investments made under this subsection in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of [section 14] if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under [sections 1 through 36] and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in [sections 1 through 36]. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of [section 14].

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

Section 30. Tangible personal property under lease. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of [section 26], an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests in tangible personal property located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by [section 4(4)], joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments.

(b) Investments acquired under subsection (1)(a) are eligible only if:

Mortgage loans permitted under this subsection (1)(b) are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80% limitation may be increased to 97% if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(2) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by [section 4(4)], joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income-producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate must be considered to be income-producing.

(b) The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections (4)(b) and (4)(c).

(d) For purposes of this subsection (3), business operations may not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under subsection (2).

(4) (a) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed:

This limitation must be increased to 15% of its admitted assets in the aggregate.

(c) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) or (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees it has made in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) or (2) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

Section 32. Securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions. (1) An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan provided for in [section 4(1)] that specifies guidelines and objectives to be followed, such as:

(i) a description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(ii) operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business, and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(iii) the extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

(b) The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminate no more than 1 year from its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(i) requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(ii) prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(c) Cash received in a transaction under this section must be invested in accordance with [sections 1 through 36] and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or must be used hy the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For as long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer or its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transactien under this section, either physically or through the book entry systems of the federal reserve, depository trust company, participants trust company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(i) possession of the acceptable collateral;

(ii) a perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(iii) in the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to or rights of a secured creditor to the acceptable collateral.

(d) The limitations of [sections 26 and 33] do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created hy transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1), no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of its admitted assets. However, the limitation of this subsection (1)(d) does not apply to reverse repurchase transactions as long as the borrowing is used to meet operational liquidity requirements resulting from an officially declared catastrophe and is subject to a plan approved by the commissioner.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

(b) However, an investment may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under [section 34] and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) Subject to [section 26] and subsection (3)(b) of this section and in addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction.

The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (4) may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under [sections 1 through 36] and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in [sections 1 through 36]. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of [section 26].

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

(3) An insurer may enter into the following types of income-generation transactions only if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed-income assets that are subject to call, plus the face value of fixed-income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the put options does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets:

(3) Chapter 1 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout [sections 1 through 125].

Section 2. Purchase-money security interest — application of payments — burden of establishing purchase-money security interest. (1) In this section:

(a) "purchase-money collateral" means goods or software that secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to that collateral; and

(b) "purchase-money obligation" means an obligation of an obligor incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral or for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of the collateral if the value is in fact so used.

(2) A security interest in goods is a purchase-money security interest:

(a) to the extent that the goods are purchase-money collateral with respect to that security interest;

(b) if the security interest is in inventory that is or was purchase-money collateral, also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to other inventory in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest; and

(c) also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to software in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest.

(3) A security interest in software is a purchase-money security interest to the extent that the security interest also secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to goods in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest if:

(a) the debtor acquired its interest in the software in an integrated transaction in which it acquired an interest in the goods; and

(b) the debtor acquired its interest in the software for the principal purpose of using the software in the goods.

(4) The security interest of a consignor in goods that are the subject of a consignment is a purchase-money security interest in inventory.

(5) In a transaction other than a consumer-goods transaction, if the extent to which a security interest is a purchase-money security interest depends on the application of a payment to a particular obligation, the payment must be applied:

(a) in accordance with any reasonable method of application to which the parties agree;

(b) in the absence of the parties' agreement to a reasonable method, in accordance with any intention of the obligor manifested at or before the time of payment; or

(c) in the absence of an agreement to a reasonable method and a timely manifestation of the obligor's intention, in the following order:

(i) to obligations that are not secured; and

(ii) if more than one obligation is secured, to obligations secured by purchase-money security interests in the order in which those obligations were incurred.

(6) In a transaction other than a consumer-goods transaction, a purchase-money security interest does not lose its status as such, even if:

(a) the purchase-money collateral also secures an obligation that is not a purchase-money obligation;

(b) collateral that is not purchase-money collateral also secures the purchase-money obligation; or

(c) the purchase-money obligation has been renewed, refinanced, consolidated, or restructured.

(7) In a transaction other than a consumer-goods transaction, a secured party claiming a purchase-money security interest has the burden of establishing the extent to which the security interest is a purchase-money security interest.

(8) The limitation of the rules in subsections (5), (6), and (7) to transactions other than consumer-goods transactions is intended to leave to the court the determination of the proper rules in consumer-goods transactions. The court may not infer from that limitation the nature of the proper rule in consumer-goods transactions and may continue to apply established approaches.

Section 3. Control of deposit account. (1) A secured party has control of a deposit account if:

(a) the secured party is the bank with which the deposit account is maintained;

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1034 1999

directing disposition of the funds in the account without further consent by the debtor; or

(c) the secured party becomes the bank's customer with respect to the deposit account.

(2) A secured party that has satisfied the requirements of subsection (1) has control, even if the debtor retains the right to direct the disposition of funds from the deposit account.

Section 4. Control of electronic chattel paper. A secured party has control of electronic chattel paper if the record or records comprising the chattel paper are created, stored, and assigned in such a manner that:

(1) a single authoritative copy of the record or records exists that is unique, identifiable, and except as otherwise provided in subsections (4), (5), and (6), unalterable;

(2) the authoritative copy identifies the secured party as the assignee of the record or records;

(3) the authoritative copy is communicated to and maintained by the secured party or its designated custodian;

(4) copies or revisions that add or change an identified assignee of the authoritative copy can be made only with the consent of the secured party;

(5) each copy of the authoritative copy and any copy of a copy is readily identifiable as a copy that is not the authoritative copy; and

(6) any revision of the authoritative copy is readily identifiable as an authorized or unauthorized revision.

(3) A secured party having control of all security entitlements or commodity contracts carried in a securities account or commodity account has control over the securities account or commodity account.

Section 6. Control of letter-of-credit right. A secured party has control of a letter-of-credit right to the extent of any right to payment or performance by the issuer of any nominated person if the issuer or nominated person has consented to an assignment of proceeds of the letter of credit under 30-5-134(3) or otherwise applicable law or practice.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (5), a description of a security entitlement, securities account, or commodity account is sufficient if it describes:

(a) the collateral by those terms or as investment property; or

(b) the underlying financial asset or commodity contract.

(5) A description only by type of collateral defined in chapters 1 through 9 is an insufficient description of:

(3) [Sections 1 through 125] do not apply to the extent that:

(a) a statute, regulation, or treaty of the United States preempts [sections 1 through 125];

(ii) equipment that is not primarily used or leased for use in the operation of the real property; or

(iii) replacements of domestic appliances that are consumer goods;

(c) the conflicting interest is a lien on the real property obtained by legal or equitable proceedings after the security interest was perfected by any method permitted by [sections 1 through 125]; or

(d) the security interest is:

(i) created in a manufactured home in a manufactured-home transaction; and

(ii) perfected pursuant to a statute described in [section 30(1)(b)].

(6) A security interest in fixtures, whether or not perfected, has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if:

(a) the encumbrancer or owner has, in an authenticated record, consentod to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures; or

(b) the debtor has a right to remove the goods as agalnst the encumbrancer or owner.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1063 1999

(7) The priority of the security interest under subsection (6) continues for a reasonable time if the debtor's right to remove the goods as against the encumbrancer or owner terminates.

(8) A mortgage is a "construction mortgage" to the extent that it secures an obligation incurred for the construction of an improvement on land, including the acquisition cost of the land, if the recorded record so indicates. Except as otherwise provided in subsections (5) and (6), a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to a construction mortgage recorded before the goods become fixtures if the goods become fixtures before the completion of the construction. A mortgage has this priority to the same extent as a construction mortgage to the extent that it is given to refinance a construction mortgage.

(9) A perfected security interest in crops growing on real property has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property.

(10) Subsection (9) prevails over any inconsistent provisions of Title 71, chapter 3, parts 8 and 9.

Section 54. Accessions. (1) A security interest may be created in an accession and continues in collateral that becomes an accession.

(2) If a security interest is perfected when the collateral becomes an accession, the security interest remains perfected in the collateral.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the other provisions of [sections 20 through 61] determine the priority of a security interest in an accession.

(4) A security interest in an accession is subordinate to a security interest in the whole that is perfected by compliance with the requirements of a certificate-of-title statute under [section 30(2)].

(5) After default, subject to [sections 98 through 125], a secured party may remove an accession from other goods if the security interest in the accession has priority over the claims of every person having an interest in the whole.

(6) A secured party that removes an accession from other goods under subsection (5) shall promptly reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the whole or of the other goods, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury to the whole or the other goods. The secured party need not reimburse the encumbrancer or owner for any diminution in value of the whole or the other goods caused by the absence of the accession removed or by any necessity for replacing it. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

Section 55. Commingled goods. (1) In this section, "commingled goods" means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that their identity is lost in a product or mass.

(2) A security interest does not exist in commingled goods as such. However, a security interest may attach to a product or mass that results when goods become commingled goods.

(3) If collateral becomes commingled goods, a security interest attaches to the product or mass.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1064 1999

(4) If a security interest in collateral is perfected before the collateral becomes commingled goods, the security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3) is perfected.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), the other provisions of [sections 20 through 61], as applicable, determine the priority of a security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3).

(6) If more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass under subsection (3), the following rules determine priority:

(a) A security interest that is perfected under subsection (4) has priority over a security interest that is unperfected at the time the collateral becomes commingled goods.

(b) If more than one security interest is perfected under subsection (4), the security interests rank equally in propertion to value of the collateral at the time it became commingled goeds.

Section 56. Priority of security intercsts in goods covered by certificate of titie. If, while a security interest in goods is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction, this state issues a certificate of title that does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or contain a statement that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate:

(1) a buyer of the goods, other than a person that is in the business of selling goods of that kind, takes free of the security interest if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest; and

(2) the security interest is subordinate to a conflicting security interest in the goods that attaches, and is perfected under [section 30(2)], after issuance of the certificate and without the conflicting secured party's knowledge of the security interest.

Scction 57. Priority of security interest or agricuitural lien perfected by filed financing statement providing certain incorrect information. If a security interest or agricultural lien is perfected by a filed financing statement providing information described in [section 86(2)(e)] that is incorrect at the time the financing statement is filed:

(1) the security interest or agricultural lien is subordinate to a conflicting perfected security interest in the collateral to the extent that the holder of the conflicting security interest gives value in reasonable reliance upen the incorrect information; and

(2) a purchaser, other than a secured party, of the collateral takes free of the security interest or agricultural lien to the extent that, in reasonable reliance upon the incorrect information, the purchaser gives value and, in the case of chattel paper, documents, goods, instruments, or a security certificate, receives delivery of the collateral.

Section 58. Priority subject to subordination. [Sections 1 through 125] do not preclude subordination by agreement by a person entitled to priority.

Scction 59. Effectiveness of right of recoupment or setoff against deposit account. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a bank with which a deposit account is maintained may exercise against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account any right of recoupment or setoff.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), the application of [sections 1 through 125] to a security interest in a deposit account does not affect a right of recoupment or setoff of the secured party as to a deposit account maintained with tho secured party.

(3) The exerciso by a bank of a setoff against a deposit account is ineffective against a secured party that holds a security interest in the deposit account that is perfected by control under [section 3(1)(c)] if the setoff is based on a claim against the debtor.

Section 60. Bank's rights and duties with respect to deposit account. Except as otherwise provided in [section 59(3)] and unless the bank otherwise agrees in an authenticated record, a bank's rights and duties with respect to a deposit account maintained with the bank are not terminated, suspended, or modified by:

(1) the creation, attschment, or perfection of a security interest in the deposit account;

(2) the bank's knowledge of the security interest; or

(3) the bank's receipt of instructions from the secured party.

Section 61. Bank's right to refuse to enter into or disclose existence of control agreement. [Sections 1 through 125] do not require a bank to enter into an agreement of the type described in [section 3(1)(b)], even if its customer so requests or directs. A bank that has entered into such an agreement is not requirod to confirm the existence of the agreement to another porson unless requested to do so by its customer.

Section 62. Alienability of debtor's rights. (1) Except as otherwise provided in [sections 67, 68, 69, and 70] and subsection (2) of this section, whether a debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred is governed by applicable law other than [sections 1 through 125].

(2) An agreement between the debtor and secured party that prohibits a transfer of the debtor's rights in collateral or makes the transfer a default does not prevent the transfer from taking effect.

Section 63. Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor. The existence of a security interest, agricultural lien, or authority given to a debtor to dispose of or use collateral, without more, does not impose upon a secured party liability in contract or tort for the debtor's acts or omissions.

Section 64. Agreement not to assert defense against assignee. (1) In this section, "value" has the meaning provided in 30-3-303(1).

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor not to assert against an assignee any claim or defense that the account debter may have against the assignor is enforceable by an assignee that takes an assignment:

(a) for value;

(b) in geod faith;

(c) without notice of a claim of a property or possessory right to the property assigned; and

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1066 1999

(d) without notice of a defense or claim in recoupment of the type that may be asserted against a person entitled to enforce a negotiable instrument under 30-3-305(1).

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to defenses of a type that may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under 30-3-305(2).

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account debtor's obligation, law other than [sections 1 through 125] requires that the record provide a statement to the effect that the rights of an assignee are subject to claims or defenses that the consumer debtor could assert against the original obligee, and the record does not provide such a statement:

(a) the record has the same effect as if the record provided such a statement; and

(b) the account debtor may assert against an assignee those claims and defenses that would have heen available if the record provided such a statement.

(5) This section is subject to law other than [sections 1 through 125] that establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(6) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), this section does not displace law other than [sections 1 through 125] that gives effect to an agreement by an account debtor not to assert a claim or defense against an assignee.

Section 65. Rights acquired by assignee — claim and defenses against assignee. (1) Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims, and subject to subsections (2) through (5), the rights of an assignee are subject to:

(a) all terms of the agreement between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim in recoupment arising from the transaction that gave rise to the contract; and

(b) any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor that accrues before the account debtor receives a notification of the assignment authenticated by the assignor or the assignee.

(2) Subject to subsection (3) and except as otherwise provided in subsection (4), the claim of an account debtor against an assignor may be asserted against an assignee under subsection (1) only to reduce the amount the account debtor owes.

(3) This section is subject to law other than [sections 1 through 125] that establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the ohligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) In a consumer transaction, if a record evidences the account dehtor's obligation, law other than [sections 1 through 125] requires that the record provide a statement to the effect that the account debtor's recovery against an assignee with respect to claims and defenses against the assignor may not exceed amounts paid by the account dehtor under the record, and the record does not provide such a statement, the extent to which a claim of an account debtor against the assignor may he asserted against an assignee is determined as if the record provided such a statement.

(5) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1067 1999

Section 66. Modification of assigned contract. (1) A modification of or substitution for an assigned contract is effective against an assignee if made in good faith. The assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that the modification or substitution is a breach of contract by the assignor. This subsection is subject to subsections (2) through (4).

(2) Subsection (1) applies to the extent that:

(a) the right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance; or

(b) the right to payment or a part thereof has been fully earned by performance and the account debtor has not received notification of the assignment under [section 67(1)].

(3) This section is subject to law other than [sections 1 through 125] that establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(4) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

Section 67. Discharge of account debtor — notification of assignment — identification and proof of assignment — term prohibiting assignment ineffective. (1) Subject to subsections (2) through (8), an account debtor on an account, chattel paper, or payment intangible may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor until, but not after, the account debtor receives a notification, authenticated by the assignor or the assignee, that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. After receipt of the notification, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignee and may not discharge the obligation by paying the assignor.

(2) Subject to subsection (7), notification is ineffective under subsection (1):

(a) if it does not reasonably identify the rights assigned;

(b) to the extent that an agreement between an account debtor and a seller of a payment intangible limits the account debtor's duty to pay a person other than the seller and the limitation is effective under law other than [sections 1 through 125]; or

(c) at the option of an account debtor, if the notification notifies the account debtor to make less than the full amount of any installment or other periodic payment to the assignee, even if:

(i) only a portion of the account, chattel paper, or general intangible has been assigned to that assignee;

(ii) a portion has been assigned to another assignee; or

(iii) the account debtor knows that the assignment to that assignee is limited.

(3) Subject to subsection (7), if requested by the account debtor, an assignee shall seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made. Unless the assignee complies, the account debtor may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor, even if the account debtor has received a notification under subsection (1).

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1068 1999

(4) Except as otherwise provided in 30-2A-303, [section 68], and subsection (5) of this section, and subject to subsection (7) of this section, a term in an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor or in a promissory note is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of tbe account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, an account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note; or

(b) provides that the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the account, chattel paper, payment intangible, or promissory note.

(5) Subsection (4) does not apply to the sale of a payment intangible or promissory note.

(6) Subject to subsection (7), an account debtor may not waive or vary its option under subsection (2)(c).

(7) This section is subject to law other than [sections 1 through 125] that establishes a different rule for an account debtor who is an individual and who incurred the obligation primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

(8) This section does not apply to an assignment of a health-care-insurance receivable.

Section 68. Restrictions on creation or enforcement of security interest in leasehold interest or in lessor's residual interest. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a lease agreement is ineffective to the extent that it:

(a) prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a party to the lease to the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods; or

(b) provides that the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the lease.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 30-2A-303(7), a term described in subsection (1)(b) is effective to the extent that there is:

(a) a transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the term; or

(b) a delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the term.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is not a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the lessee within 30-2A-303(4). This subsection does not apply to the extent that enforcement results in a delegation of a material performance of the lessor.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1069 1999

Section 69. Restrictions on assignment of promissory notes, health-care-insurance receivables, and certain general intangibles ineffective. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor that relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or a general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise, and that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to, the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in, the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible is ineffective to the extent that the term:

(a) would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) provides that the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(2) Subsection (1) applies to a security interest in a payment intangible or promissory note only if the security interest arises out of a sale of the payment intangible or promissory note.

(3) A rule of law, including a provision in a statute or governmental rule or regulation, that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of a government, governmental body or official, person obligated on a promissory note, or account debtor to the assignment or transfer of or creation of a security interest in a promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including a contract, permit, license, or franchise between an account debtor and a debtor, is ineffective to the extent that the rule of law, statute, or regulation:

(a) would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest; or

(b) provides that the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(4) To the extent that a term in a promissory note or in an agreement between an account debtor and a debtor that relates to a health-care-insurance receivable or general intangible or a rule of law described in subsection (3) would be effective under law other than [sections 1 through 125] but is ineffective under subsection (1) or (3), the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible:

(a) is not enforceable against the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(b) does not impose a duty or obligation on the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor;

(c) does not require the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or performance from the secured party;

(d) does not entitle the secured party to use or assign the debtor's rights under the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible, including any related information or materials furnished to the debtor in the transaction giving rise to the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible;

(e) does not entitle the secured party to use, assign, possess, or have access to any trade secrets or confidential information of the person obligated on the promissory note or the account debtor; and

(f) does not entitle the secured party to enforce the security interest in the promissory note, health-care-insurance receivable, or general intangible.

(5) This section prevails over any inconsistent provisions of other statutes or rules.

Section 70. Restrictions on assignment of letter-of-credit rights ineffective. (1) A term in a letter of credit or a rule of law, including a provision in a statute or governmental rule or regulation, custom, or practice applicable to the letter of credit that prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of an applicant, issuer, or nominated person to a beneficiary's assignment of or creation of a security interest in a letter-of-credit right is ineffective to the extent that the term or rule of law, custom, or practice:

(a) would impair the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right; or

(b) provides that the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest may give rise to a default, breach, right of recoupment, claim, defense, termination, right of termination, or remedy under the letter-of-credit right.

(2) To the extent that a term in a letter of credit is ineffective under subsection (1) but would be effective under law other than [sections 1 through 125] or a custom or practice applicable to the letter of credit, to the transfer of a right to draw or otherwise demand performance under the letter of credit, or to the assignment of a right to proceeds of the letter of credit, the creation, attachment, or perfection of a security interest in the letter-of-credit right:

(a) is not enforceable against the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary;

(b) imposes no duties or obligations on the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary; and

(c) does not require the applicant, issuer, nominated person, or transferee beneficiary to recognize the security interest, pay or render performance to the secured party, or accept payment or other performance from the secured party.

Section 71. Filing office. (1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), if the local law of this state governs perfection of a security interest or agricultural lien, the office in which to file a financing statement to perfect the security interest or agricultural lien is:

(a) the office designated for the filing or recording of a mortgage on the real property if:

(i) the collateral is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut; or

(ii) the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing and the collateral is goods that are or are to become fixtures; or

(b) the office of secretary of state in all other cases, including if the collateral is goods that are or are to become fixtures and the financing statement is not filed as a fixture filing.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1071 1999

(2) The office in which to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of secretary of state. The financing statement also constitutes a fixture filing as to the collateral indicated in the financing statement that is or is to become fixtures.

Section 72. Contents of financing statement — mortgage as financing statement — time of filing financing statement. (1) Subject to subsection (2), a financing statement is sufficient only if it:

(a) provides the name of the debtor;

(b) provides the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party; and

(c) indicates the collateral covered by the financing statement.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in [section 71(2)], to be sufficient, a financing statement that covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut or that is filed as a fixture filing and covers goods that are or are to become fixtures must comply with the requirements of subsection (1) and also:

(a) indicate that it covers this type of collateral;

(b) indicate that it is to be filed for record in the real property records;

(c) provide a description of the real property to which the collateral is related sufficient to give constructive notice of the mortgage under the law of this state if the description were contained in a record of the mortgage of the real property; and

(d) if the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real property, provide the name of a record owner.

(3) A record of mortgage is effective, from the date of recording, as a financing statement filed as a fixture filing or as a financing statement covering as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut only if:

(a) the record indicates the goods or accounts that it covers;

(b) the goods are or are to become fixtures related to the real property described in the record or the collateral is related to the real property described in the record and is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut;

(c) the record complies with the requirements for a financing statement in this section other than an indication that it is to be filed in the real property records; and

(d) the record is recorded.

(4) A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches.

Section 73. Name of debtor and secured party. (1) A financing statement sufficiently provides the name of the debtor:

(a) if the debtor is a registered organization, only if the financing statement provides the name of the debtor indicated on the public record of the debtor's jurisdiction of organization that shows the debtor to have been organized;

(b) if the debtor is a decedent's estate, only if the financing statement provides the name of the decedent and indicates that the debtor is an estate;

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1072 1999

(c) if the debtor is a trust or a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust, only if the financing statement:

(i) provides the name, if any, specified for the trust in its organic documents or, if no name is specified, provides the name of the settlor and additional information sufficient to distinguish the debtor from other trusts having one or more of the same settlors; and

(ii) indicates, in the debtor's name or otherwise, that the debtor is a trust or is a trustee acting with respect to property held in trust; and

(d) in other cases:

(i) if the debtor has a name, only if it provides the individual or organizational name of the debtor; and

(ii) if the debtor does not have a name, only if it provides the names of the partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(2) A financing statement that provides the name of the debtor in accordance with subsection (1) is not rendered ineffective by the absence of:

(a) a trade name or other name of the debtor; or

(b) unless required under subsection (1)(d)(ii), names of partners, members, associates, or other persons comprising the debtor.

(3) A financing statement that provides only the debtor's trade name does not sufficiently provide the name of the debtor.

(4) Failure to indicate the representative capacity of a secured party or representative of a secured party does not affect the sufficiency of a financing statement.

(5) A financing statement may provide the name of more than one debtor and the name of more than one secured party.

Section 74. Indication of collateral. A financing statement sufficiently indicates the collateral that it covers if the financing statement provides:

(1) a description of the collateral pursuant to [section 7]; or

(2) an indication that the financing statement covers all assets or all personal property.

Section 75. Filing and compliance with other statutes and treaties for consignments, leases, bailments, and other transactions. (1) A consignor, lessor, or bailor of goods or a buyer of a payment intangible or promissory note may file a financing statement or may comply with a statute or treaty described in [section 30(1)], using the terms "consignor", "consignee", "lessor", "lessee", "bailor", "bailee", "owner", "registered owner", "buyer", "seller", or words of similar import, instead of the terms "secured party" and "debtor."

(2) [Sections 71 through 97] apply to the filing of a financing statement under subsection (1) and, as appropriate, to compliance that is equivalent to filing a financing statement under [section 30(2)], but the filing or compliance is not of itself a factor in determining whether the collateral secures an obligation. If it is determined for another reason that the collateral secures an obligation, a security interest held by the consignor, lessor, bailor, owner, or buyer that attaches to the collateral is perfected by the filing or compliance.

Section 76. Effect of errors or omissions. (1) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of [sections 71 through 97] is effective, even if it includes minor errors or omissions, unless the errors or omissions make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3), a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with [section 73(1)] is seriously misleading.

(3) If a search of the records of the filing office under the debtor's correct name, using the filing office's standard search logic, if any, would disclose a financing statement that fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor in accordance with [section 73(1)], the name provided does not make the financing statement seriously misleading.

(4) For purposes of [section 78(2)], the "debtor's correct name" in subsection (3) means the correct name of the new debtor.

Section 77. Effect of certain events on effectiveness of financing statement. (1) A filed financing statement remains effective with respect to collateral that is sold, exchanged, leased, licensed, or otherwise disposed of and in which a security interest or agricultural lien continues, even if the secured party knows of or consents to the disposition.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in [section 78] and subsection (3) of this section, a financing statement is not rendered ineffective if, after the financing statement is filed, the information provided in the financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in [section 76].

(3) If a debtor so changes its name that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading under the standard set forth in [section 76]:

(a) the financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor before or within 4 months after the change; and

(b) the financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than 4 months after the change, unless an amendment to the financing statement that renders the financing statement not seriously misleading is filed within 4 months after the change.

Section 78. Effectiveness of financing statement if new debtor becomes bound by security agreement. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a filed financing statement naming an original debtor is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral in which a new debtor has or acquires rights to the extent that the financing statement would have been effective had the original debtor acquired rights in the collateral.

(2) If the difference between the name of the original debtor and that of the new debtor causes a filed financing statement that is effective under subsection (1) to be seriously misleading under the standard set forth in [section 76]:

(a) the financing statement is effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor before and within 4 months after the new debtor becomes bound under [section 12(4)]; and

(b) the financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the new debtor more than 4 months after the new debtor becomes bound under [section 12(4)] unless an initial financing statement providing the name of the new debtor is filed before the expiration of that time.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1074 1999

(3) This section does not apply to collateral as to which a filed financing statement remains effective against the new debtor under [section 77(1)].

Section 79. Persons entitled to file record. (1) A person may file an initial financing statement, an amendment that adds collateral covered by a financing statement, or an amendment that adds a dehtor to a financing statement only if:

(a) the debtor authorizes the filing in an authenticated record; or

(h) the person holds an agricultural lien that has become effective at the time of filing and the financing statement covers only collateral in which the person holds an agricultural lien.

(2) By authenticating a security agreement, a debtor authorizes the filing of an initial financing statement and an amendment covering:

(a) the collateral described in the security agreement; aud

(b) property that becomes collateral under [section 34(1)(b)], whether or not the security agreement expressly covers proceeds.

(6) A debtor or consumer obligor may recover damages under subsection (2) and, in addition, $500 in each case from a porson that, without reasonable cause, fails to comply with a request under [section 19]. A recipient of a request under [section 19] that never claimed an interest in the collateral or obligations that are the subject of a request under that section has a reasonable excuse for failure to comply with the request within the meaning of this subsection.

(7) If a secured party fails to comply with a request regarding a list of collateral or a statement of account under [section 19], the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the statement included in the request as against a person that is reasonably misled by the failure.

Section 123. Action in which deficiency or surplus is in issue. (1) In an action arising from a transaction, other than a consumer transaction, in which the amount of a deficiency or surplus is in issue, the following rules apply:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1099 1999

(a) A secured party need not prove compliance with the provisions of [sections 98 through 125] relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance unless the debtor or a secondary obligor places the secured party's compliance in issue.

(b) If the secured party's compliance is placed in issue, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with [sections 98 through 125].

(c) Except as otherwise provided in [section 125], if a secured party fails to prove that the colleetion, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with the provisions of [sections 98 through 125] relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance, the liability of a debtor or a secondary obligor for a deficiency is limited to an amount by which the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorneys fees exceeds the greater of:

(i) the proceeds of the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance; or

(ii) the amount of proceeds that would have been realized had the noncomplying secured party proceeded in accordance with the provisions of [sections 98 through 125] relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance.

(d) For purposes of subsection (1)(e)(ii), the amount of proceeds that would have been realized is equal to the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and attorneys fees unless the secured party proves that the amount is less than that sum.

(e) If a deficiency or surplus is calculated under [section 112(6)], the debtor or obligor has the burden of establishing that the amount of proceeds of the disposition is significantly below the range of prices that a complying disposition to a person other than the secured party, a person related to the secured party, or a secondary obligor would have brought.

(2) The limitation of the rules in subsection (1) to transactions other than consumer transactions is intended to leave to the court the determination of the proper rules in consumer transactions. The court may not infer from that limitation the nature of the proper rule in consumer transactions and may continue to apply established approaches.

Section 124. Determination of whether conduct was commercially reasonable. (1) The fact that a greater amount could have been obtained by a collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to preclude the secured party from establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was made in a commercially reasonable manner.

(2) A disposition of collateral is made in a commercially reasonable manner if the disposition is made:

(a) in the usual manner on any recognized market;

(b) at the price current in any recognized market at the time of the disposition; or

(c) otherwise in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property that was the subject of the disposition.

(3) A collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is commercially reasonable if it has been approved:

(a) in a judicial proceeding;

(b) by a bona fide creditors' committee;

(c) by a representative of creditors; or

(d) by an assignee for the benefit of creditors.

(4) Approval under subsection (3) need not be obtained, and lack of approval does not mean that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is not commercially reasonable.

Section 125. Nonliability and limitation on liability of seeured party — liability of secondary obligor. (1) Unless a secured party knows that a person is a debtor or obligor, knows the identity of the person, and knows how to communicate with the person:

(a) the secured party is not liable to the person, or to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against the person, for failure to comply with [sections 1 through 125]; and

(b) the secured party's failure to comply with [sections 1 through 125] does not affect the liability of the person for a deficiency.

(2) A secured party is not liable because of its status as a secured party:

(a) to a person that is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

(i) that the person is a debtor or obligor;

(ii) the identity of the person; and

(iii) how to communicate with the person; or

(b) to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

(i) that the person is a debtor; and

(ii) the identity of the person.

(3) A secured party is not liable to any person, and a person's liability for a deficiency is not affected, because of any act or omission arising out of the secured party's reasonable belief that a transaction is not a consumer-goods transaction or a consumer transaction or that goods are not consumer goods if the secured party's belief is based on its reasonable reliance on:

(a) a debtor's representation concerning the purpose for which collateral was to be used, acquired, or held; or

(b) an obligor's representation concerning the purpose for which a secured obligation was incurred.

(4) A secured party is not liable to any person under [section 122(3)(b)] for its failure to comply with [section 113].

(5) A secured party is not liable under [section 122(3)(b)] more than once with respect to any one secured obligation.

Section 126. Section 2-6-109, MCA, is amended to read:

"2-6-109. Prohibition on distribution or sale of mailing lists — exceptions — penalty. (1) Except as provided in subsections (3) through (8), in order to protect the privacy of those who deal with state and local government:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1101 1999

(a) an agency may not distribute or sell for use as a mailing list any list of persons without first securing the permission of those on the list; and

(b) a list of persons prepared by the agency may not be used as a mailing list except by the agency or another agency without first securing the permission of those on the list.

(7) This section does not apply to a corporate information list developed by the secretary of state containing the name, address, registered agent, officers, and directors of business, nonprofit, religious, professional, and close corporations authorized to do business in this state.

(8) This section does not apply to the use by the public employees' retirement board of a mailing list of board-administered retirement system participants to send materials on behalf of a retiree organization formed for board-administered retirement system participants and with tax-exempt status under section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, for a fee determined by rules of the board, provided that the mailing list is not released to the organization.

(9) A person violating the provisions of subsection (1)(b) is guilty of a misdemeanor."

A person that acquires goods in a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt is not a buyer in ordinary course of business.*

(10) "Conspicuous": A term or clause is conspicuous when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: Non-Negetiable Bill of Lading) is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is "conspicuous" if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is "conspicuous". Whether a term or clause is "conspicuous" or not is for decision by the court.

(a) lie lias actual knowledge of it; or

(b) he has received a notice or notification of it; or

(c) from all tlie facts and circumstances known to him at the time in question lie has reason to know that it exists. A person "knows" or lias "knowledge" of a fact when he lias actual knowledge of it. "Discover" or "learn" or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge ratlier than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under wliich a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this code.

(26) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform tlie other in ordinary course whether or not such other actually comes to know of it. A person "receives" a notice or notification wlien:

(a) it comes to his attention; or

(b) it is duly delivered at the place of business tlirougli which tlie contract was made or at any other place lield out by him as tlie place for receipt of such communications.

(27) Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from tlie time when it is brought to tlie attention of tlie individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his attontion if the organization had exercised due diligance. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to tlie person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with tlie routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless such communication is part of his regular duties or unless he has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by tlie information.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1106 1999

The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under 30-2-401 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with chapter 9. ~~Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest", but a consignment in any event is subject to the provisions on consignment sales (30-2-326). Whether a transaction creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case; however, a transaction creates a security interest if the consideration the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease not subject to termination by the lessee and:~~

~~(i) the original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;~~

~~(ii) the lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;~~

~~(iii) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or~~

~~(iv) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.~~ Except as otherwise provided in 30-2-505, the right of a seller or lessor of goods under chapter 2 or 2A to retain or acquire possession of the goods in not a "security interest", but a seller or lessor may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with chapter 9. The retcntion or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (30-2-401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest".

~~(b) A transaction does not create a security interest merely because it provides that:~~

~~(i) the present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;~~

~~(ii) the lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods or agrees to pay taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees or service or maintenance costs with respect to the goods;~~

~~(iii) the lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;~~

~~(iv) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or~~

~~(v) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.~~

~~(i) additional consideration is not nominal if:~~

~~(A) when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed; or~~

~~(B) when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed;~~

~~(ii) additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised;~~

~~(iii) "reasonably predictable" and "remaining economic life of the goods" are to be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into; and~~

~~(iv) "present value" means the amount as of a date certain of one or more sums payable in the future, discounted to the date certain. The discount is determined by the interest rate specified by the parties if the rate is not manifestly unreasonable at the time the transaction is entered into; otherwise, the discount is determined by a commercially reasonable rate that takes into account the facts and circumstances of each case at the time the transaction was entered into.~~

(38) "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed, and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending.

(39) "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

(a) in return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection; or

(b) as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a preexisting claim; or

(c) by accepting delivery pursuant to a preexisting contract for purchase; or

(d) generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

(45) "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(46) "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting, or any other intentional reduction to tangible form."

(1) Except in the cases described in subsection (2) a contract for the sale of personal property is not enforceable by way of action or defense beyond $5,000 in amount or value of remedy unless there is some writing which indicates that a contract for sale has been made between the parties at a defined or stated price, reasonably identifies the subject matter, and is signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by the party's authorized agent.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to contracts for the sale of goods (30-2-201) nor of securities (30-8-123) nor to security agreements ~~(30-9-203)~~ [section 12]."

(4) In addition, chaptor 1 contains goneral definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter."

Section 133. Section 30-2-210, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2-210. Delegation of performance — assignment of rights. (1) A party may perform ~~his~~ the party's duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having ~~his~~ the party's original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can he assigned except ~~where~~ when the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on ~~him~~ the other party by ~~his~~ the contract, or impair materially ~~his~~ the other party's chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of ~~his~~ the assignor's entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

(3) The creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in the seller's interest under a contract is not a transfer that materially changes the duty of or increases materially the burden or risk imposed on thc buyer or impairs materially the buycr's chance of obtaining return performance within the purview of subsection (2) unless, and then only to the extent that, enforcement actually results in a delegation of material performance of the seller. Even in that event, the creation, attachment, perfection, and enforcement of the security interest remain effective, but:

(a) the seller is liable to the buyer for damages caused by the dclegation to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the buyer; and

(b) a court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the contract for sale or an injunction against enforcement of the security interest or consummation of the enforcement.

~~(3)~~(4) Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

~~(4)~~(5) An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by ~~him~~ the assignee to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

~~(5)~~(6) The other party may treat any assignment ~~which~~ that delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to ~~his~~ the other party's rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (30-2-609)."

Section 134. Section 30-2-326, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2-326. Sale on approval and sale or return — ~~consignment sales and~~ rights of creditors. (1) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is:

(a) a "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use; and

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1111 1999

(h) a "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(2) ~~Except as provided in subsection (3), goods~~ Goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

~~(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum". However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery:~~

~~(a) complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign; or~~

~~(b) establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others; or~~

~~(c) complies with the filing provisions of the Chapter on Secured Transactions (Chapter 9).~~

~~(4)~~(3) Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to he treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (30-2-201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (30-2-202)."

Section 135. Section 30-2-502, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2-502. Buyer's right to goods on seller's insolvency. (1) Subject to ~~subsection~~ subsections (2) and (3) and even though the goods have not been shipped a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which ~~he~~ the buyer has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if:

(a) in the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the seller repudiates or fails to deliver as required by the contract; or

(b) in other cases, the seller becomes insolvent within 10 days after receipt of the first installment on their price.

(2) The buyer's right to recover the goods under subsection (1)(a) vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller had not then repudiated or failed to deliver.

~~(2)~~(3) If the identification creating ~~his~~ the buyer's special property has been made by the buyer, ~~he~~ the buyer acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale."

Section 136. Section 30-2-716, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2-716. Buyer's right to specific performance or recovery of goods. (1) Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

(2) The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1112 1999

(3) The buyer has a right to maintain an action for the recovery of goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort ~~he~~ the buyer is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods bave been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in tbem has been made or tendered. In the case of goods bought for personal, family, or household purposes, the buyer's right to maintain an action for recovery of the goods vests upon acquisition of a special property, even if the seller had not then repudiated or failed to deliver."

Section 138. Section 30-2A-303, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2A-303. Alienability of party's interest under lease contract or of lessor's residual interest in goods — delegation of performance — transfer of rights. (1) As used in this section, "creation of a security interest" includes the sale of a lease contract that is subject to Title 30, chapter 9, secured transactions, by reason of ~~30-9-102(1)(b)~~ [section 8(1)(c)].

(2) Except as provided in ~~subsections~~ [section 68] and subsection (3) ~~and (4)~~ of this section, a provision in a lease agreement that prohibits the voluntary or involuntary transfer, including a transfer by sale, sublease, creation or enforcement of a security interest, or attachment, levy, or other judicial process, of an interest of a party under the lease contract or of the lessor's residual interest in the goods or that makes such a transfer an event of default gives rise to the rights and remedies provided in subsection ~~(5)~~ (4), but a transfer that is prohibited or is an event of default under the lease agreement is otherwise effective.

~~(3) (a) A provision in a lease agreement that prohibits the creation or enforcement of a security interest in an interest of a party under the lease contract or in the lessor's residual interest in the goods or that makes such a transfer an event of default is not enforceable unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual transfer by the lessee of the lessee's right of possession or use of the goods in violation of the provision or an actual delegation of a material performance of either party to the lease contract in violation of the provision.~~

~~(b) Neither the granting nor the enforcement of a security interest in the lessor's interest under the lease contract or the lessor's residual interest in the goods is a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the lessee within the purview of subsection (5) unless, and then only to the extent that, there is an actual delegation of a material performance of the lessor.~~

~~(4)~~(3) A provision in a lease agreement that prohibits a transfer of a right to damages for default with respect to the whole lease contract or of a right to payment arising out of the transferor's due performance of the transferor's entire obligation or that makes such a transfer an event of default is not enforceable, and such a transfer is not a transfer that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the other party to the lease contract within the purview of subsection ~~(5)~~ (4).

~~(5)~~(4) Subject to ~~subsections (3) and (4)~~ [section 68] and subsection (3) of this section:

(a) if a transfer is made ~~which~~ that is made an event of default under a lease agreement, the party to the lease contract not making the transfer, unless that party waives the default or otherwise agrees, has the rights and remedies described in 30-2A-501;

(b) if subsection ~~(5)(a)~~ (4)(a) is not applicable and if a transfer is made that is prohibited under a lease agreement or that materially impairs the prospect of obtaining return performance by, materially changes the duty of, or materially increases the burden or risk imposed on the other party to the lease contract, unless the party not making the transfer agrees at any time to the transfer in the lease contract or otherwise, then, except as limited by contract:

(i) the transferor is liable to the party not making the transfer for damages caused by the transfer to the extent that the damages could not reasonably be prevented by the party not making the transfer; and

(ii) a court having jurisdiction may grant other appropriate relief, including cancellation of the lease contract or an injunction against the transfer.

~~(6)~~(5) A transfer of "the lease" or of "all my rights under the lease" or a transfer in similar general terms is a transfer of rights, and unless the language or the circumstances, as in a transfer for security, indicate the contrary, the transfer is a delegation of duties by the transferor to the transferee. Acceptance by the transferee constitutes a promise by the transferee to perform those duties. The promise is enforceable by either the transferor or the other party to the lease contract.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1117 1999

~~(7)~~(6) Unless otherwise agreed hy the lessor and the lessee, a delegation of performance does not relieve the transferor as against the other party of any duty to perform or of any liability for default.

~~(8)~~(7) In a consumer lease, to prohibit the transfer of an interest of a party under the lease contract or to make a transfer an event of default, the language must be specific, by a writing, and conspicuous."

Section 139. Section 30-2A-307, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2A-307. Priority of liens arising by attachment or levy on, security interests in, and otber claims to goods. (1) Except as otherwise provided in 30-2A-306, a creditor of a lessee takes subject to the lease contract.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in 30-2A-306, 30-2A-308, and ~~subsections~~ subsection (3) ~~and (4)~~ of this section, a creditor of a lessor takes subject to the lease contract unless~~:~~

~~(a)~~ tbe creditor holds a lien tbat attached to the goods before the lease contract became enforceable~~;~~

~~(b) the creditor holds a security interest in the goods and the lessee did not give value and receive delivery of the goods without knowledge of the security interest; or~~

~~(c) the creditor holds a security interest in the goods that was perfected (30-9-303) before the lease contract became enforceable.~~

~~(3) A lessee in the ordinary course of business takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest in the goods created by the lessor even though the security interest is perfected (30-9-303) and the lessee knows of its existence.~~

~~(4) A lessee other than a lessee in the ordinary course of business takes the leasehold interest free of a security interest to the extent that it secures future advances made after the secured party acquires knowledge of the lease or more than 45 days after the lease contract becomes enforceable, whichever occurs first, unless the future advances are made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lease and before the expiration of the 45-day period~~.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in [sections 36, 40, and 42], a lessee takes a leasehold interest subject to a security interest held by a creditor of the lessor."

Section 140. Section 30-2A-309, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-2A-309. Lessor's and lessee's rights when goods become fixtures. (1) In this section:

(a) goods are "fixtures" when they become so related to particular real estato that an interest in them arises under real estate law;

(b) a "fixture filing" is the filing, in the office where a mortgago on the real estate would be filed or recorded, of a financing statement covering goods that are or are to become fixtures and conforming to the requirements of ~~30-9-402(5)~~ [section 72(1) and (2)];

(c) a lease is a "purchase money lease" unless the lessee has possession or use of the goods or the right to possession or use of the goods before the lease agreement is enforceable;

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1118 1999

(d) a mortgage is a "construction mortgage" to the extent it secures an obligation incurred for the construction of an improvement on land, including the acquisition cost of the land, if the recorded writing so indicates; and

(e) "encumbrance" includes real estate mortgages and other liens on real estate and all other rights in real estate that are not ownership interests.

(2) Under this chapter, a lease may be of goods that are fixtures or may continue in goods that become fixtures, but no lease exists under this chapter of ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.

(3) This chapter does not prevent creation of a lease of fixtures pursuant to real estate law.

(4) The perfected interest of a lessor of fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real estate if:

(a) the lease is a purchase money lease, the conflicting interest of the encumbrancer or owner arises before the goods become fixtures, the interest of the lessor is perfected by a fixture filing before the goods become fixtures or within 10 days thereafter, and the lessee has an interest of record in the real estate or is in possession of the real estate; or

(h) the interest of the lessor is perfected by a fixture filing before the interest of the encumbrancer or owner is of record, the lessor's interest has priority over any conflicting interest of a predecessor in title of the encumbrancer or owner, and the lessee has an interest of record in the real estate or is in possession of the real estate.

(5) The interest of a lessor of fixtures, whether or not perfected, has priority over the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real estate if:

(a) the fixtures are readily removable factory or office machines, readily removable equipment that is not primarily used or leased for use in the operation of the real estate, or readily removable replacements of domestic appliances that are goods subject to a consumer lease, and before the goods become fixtures the lease contract is enforceable;

(b) the conflicting interest is a lien on the real estate obtained by legal or equitable proceedings after the lease contract is enforceable;

(c) the encumbrancer or owner has consented in writing to the lease or has disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures; or

(d) the lessee has a right to remove the goods as against the encumbrancer or owner. If the lessee's right to remove terminates, the priority of the interest of the lessor continues for a reasonable time.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (4)(a) but otherwise subject to the provisions of subsections (4) and (5), the interest of a lessor of fixtures, including the lessor's residual interest, is subordinate to the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer of the real estate under a construction mortgage recorded before the goods become fixtures if the goods become fixtures before the completion of the construction. To the extent given to refinance a construction mortgage, the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer of the real estate under a mortgage has this priority to the same extent as the encumbrancer of the real estate under the construction mortgago.

(7) In cases not within the provisions of subsections (1) through (6), priority between the interest of a lessor of fixtures, including the lessor's residual interest, and the conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real estate who is not the lessee is determined by the priority rules governing conflicting interests in real estate.

(8) If the interest of a lessor of fixtures, including the lessor's residual interest, has priority over all conflicting interests of all owners and encumbrancers of the real estate, the lessor or the lessee may, on default, expiration, termination, or cancellation of the lease agreement but subject to the lease agreement and this chapter or if necessary to enforce other rights and remedies of the lessor or lessee under this chapter, remove the goods from the real estate, free and clear of all conflicting interests of all owners and encumbrancers of the real estate. However, the lessor or lessee shall reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real estate who is not the lessee and who has not otherwise agreed to the cost of repair of any physical injury, but not for any diminution in value of the real estate caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the party seeking removal gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.

(9) Even though the lease agreement does not create a security interest, the interest of a lessor of fixtures, including the lessor's residual interest, is perfected by filing a financing statement as a fixture filing for leased goods that are or are to become fixtures in accordance with the relevant provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (Title 30, chapter 9)."

Section 141. Section 30-4-208, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-4-208. Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents, and proceeds. (1) A collecting bank has a security interest in an item and any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either:

(a) in case of an item deposited in an account, to the extent to which credit given for the item has been withdrawn or applied;

(b) in case of an item for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right, to the extent of the credit given, whether or not the credit is drawn upon or there is a right of charge-back; or

(c) if it makes an advance on or against the item.

(2) If credit given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part, the security interest remains upon all the items, any accompanying documents, or the proceeds of either. For the purpose of this section, credits first given are first withdrawn.

(3) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents and proceeds. To the extent and so long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues and is subject to the provisions of chapter 9 except that:

(a) no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable ~~(30-9-203)~~ ([section 12(2)(c)(i)]); and

(b) no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1120 1999

(c) the security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents or proceeds."

Section 142. Section 30-7-503, MCA, is amended to read:

"30-7-503. Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases. (1) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither:

(a) delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or ~~his~~ the bailor's nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this chapter (30-7-403) or with power of disposition under this code (30-2-403 and ~~30-9-307~~ [section 39]) or other statute or rule of law; nor

(b) acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or ~~his~~ the bailor's nominee of any document of title.

(2) Title to goods based upon an unaccepted delivery order is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering the goods has been duly negotiated. Such a title may be defeated under the next section to the same extent as the rights of the issuer or a transferee from the issuer.

(3) Title to goods based upen a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarder is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a bill issued by the freight forwarder is duly negotiated; but delivery by the carrier in accordance with ~~Part~~ part 4 of this chapter pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to deliver."

Section 143. Section 30-8-113, MCA, is amended to read:

(6) A purchaser who has satisfied the requirements of subsection (3)~~(b)~~ or (4)~~(b)~~ has control even if the registered owner in the case of subsection (3)~~(b)~~ or the entitlement holder in the case of subsection (4)~~(b)~~ retains the right to make substitutions for the uncertificated security or security entitlement, to originate instructions or entitlement orders to the issuer or securities intermediary, or otherwise to deal with the uncertificated security or security entitlement.

"69-8-503. Transition costs financing. (1) A utility may, after July 1, 1997, apply to the commission for a determination that certain transition costs may be recovered through the issuance of transition bonds. If transition bonds are issued, cost savings associated with and resulting from the bonds must benefit customers. After the issuance of a financing order, the utility retains sole discretion regarding whether to sell, assign, or otherwise transfer or pledge transition property or to cause the transition bonds to be issued, including the right to defer or postpone the sale, assignment, transfer, pledge, or issuance. If transition bonds are not issued within 4 years of the issuance of the financing order, the financing order must terminate. The utility may apply for an extension or renewal of a financing order.

(2) (a) The commission may issue financing orders in accordance with this section to facilitate the recovery, reimbursement, financing, or refinancing of transition costs and the acquisition of transition property. A financing order may be adopted only upon the application of a utility and may only become effective in accordance with its terms after the utility files with the commission the utility's written consent to all terms and conditions of the financing order. A financing order may specify how amounts collected from a customer are allocated between fixed transition amounts and other charges.

(b) A financing order must include, without limitation, a procedure for the expeditious approval by the commission of periodic adjustments to nonbypassable rates and charges associated with fixed transition amounts included in the order to ensure recovery of all transition costs and the costs of capital associated with the proposed recovery, reimbursement, financing, or refinancing of transition costs and the acquisition of transition property including the costs of issuing, servicing, and retiring the transition bonds contemplated by the financing order. The order must set forth the term over which the transition bonds are to be paid, but those terms may not exceed 20 years. These adjustments may not impose fixed transition amounts upon customer classes that were not subject to the fixed transition amounts in the pertinent financing order.

(3) (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as otherwise provided in this section with respect to transition property that has been made the basis for the issuance of transition bonds and upon the issuance of transition bonds, the financing orders and the fixed transition amounts must be irrevocable.

The board, as agent for the state, is authorized to include this pledge and undertaking for the state in these bonds.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the commission shall approve those adjustments to the fixed transition amounts as may be necessary to ensure timely recovery of all transition costs that are the subject of the pertinent financing order and the costs of capital associated with the recovery, reimbursement, financing, or refinancing of transition costs and acquiring transition property including the costs of issuing, servicing, and retiring the transition bonds contemplated by the financing order. The adjustments may not impose fixed transition amounts upon customer classes that were not subject to the fixed transition amounts in the pertinent financing order.

(4) (a) Financing orders do not constitute a debt or liability of the state or of any political subdivision of the state if issued through the board and do not constitute a pledge of the full faith and credit of the state or any of the state's political subdivisions if issued through the board. The financing orders are payable solely from the funds provided under this section. The bonds and offering documents must contain on their face a statement to the following effect:

This bond may not constitute an indebtedness or a loan of credit of the state of Montana or any political subdivision of the state of Montana within any constitutional or statutory provision. Neither the full faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state of Montana is pledged to tbe payment of the principal or interest on this bond, and neither the state of Montana nor any political subdivision of the state of Montana is obligated, directly, indirectly, or contingently, to levy or to pledge any form of taxation or to make any appropriation for the payment of tbis bond. This bond is a limited obligation of the issuer, payable solely out of tlie transition property or the proceeds of tbat property specifically pledged for its payment and not otherwise.

Tlie commission sball determine on each anniversary of the issuance of the financing order and at additional intervals as may be provided for in the financing order whether the adjustments are required and shall provide for the adjustments, if required, to be approved within 60 days of each anniversary of the issuance of the financing order or of each additional interval provided for in the financing order.

(6) Fixed transition amounts become transition property when and to the extent that a financing order authorizing the fixed transition amounts has become effective in accordance with subsection (2), and tbe transition property must thereafter continuously exist as property for all purposes with all of the rights and privileges of this chapter for the period and to the extent provided in the financing order or until tbe transition bonds are paid in full including all principal, interest, premium, costs, and arrearages on the transition bonds.

(7) Transition bonds may be issued upon commission approval in the pertinent financing order. Transition bonds must specify tbat they do not provide recourse to the credit or any assets of the utility, other than the transition property as specified in tbe pertinent financing order.

(8) (a) A utility may sell, assign, or transfer all or pertions of the utility's interest in transition property to an assignee. A utility or an assignee may further sell, assign, or transfer the utility's interest in tbat transition property to one or more assignees in connection witb the issuance of transition bonds to the extent approved in the pertinent financing order.

(ii) any person acquiring the transition property after a sale, assignment, or transfer pursuant to this section.

(9) (a) To the extent that any interest in transition property is sold, assigned, transferred, or pledged as collateral, the commission shall authorize the utility to contract with any assignee so that the utility will, subject to the utility's rights under subsection (18):

(i) continue to operate the utility's system and to provide service to the utility's customers;

(ii) collect amounts in respect of the fixed transition amounts for the benefit and account of the assignee; and

(iii) account for and remit these amounts to or for the account of the assignee.

(b) Contracting with the assignee in accordance with the commission's authorization may not impair or negate the characterization of the sale, assignment, transfer, or pledge as a true sale, an absolute assignment or transfer, or a grant of a security interest, as applicable.

(10) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any provision under this section or under a financing order requiring that the commission take or refrain from taking action with respect to the subject matter of a financing order binds the commission and any successor commission or agency exercising functions similar to the commission, and the commission or any successor commission or agency may not rescind, alter, or amend that requirement in a financing order.

(11) A pledge or any other security interest in transition property is valid, is enforceable against the pledger and third parties, including judgment lien creditors, subject only te the rigbts of any third parties holding security interests in the transition property perfected in the manner described in this section, and attaches only when all of the following have taken place:

(c) the pledgor has signed a security agreement or other financing-related agreement covering the transition property.

The financing statement must name the pledger of the transition property as debtor and identify the transition property.

(b) Any description of the transition property is sufficient if the description refers to the financing order creating the transition property.

(c) The commission may require other filings with respect to the security interest in accordance with procedures tbe commission may establish, except that tbese filings may not affect the perfection of the security interest.

(13) A perfected security interest in transition property is a continuously perfected security interest in all revenue and proceeds arising with respect to the transition property, whether or not the revenue or proceeds have accrued.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1131 1999

Conflicting security interests must rank according to priority in time of perfection. Transition property constitutes property for all purposes, including for contracts securing transition bonds, whether or not the revenue and proceeds arising with respect to the transition property have accrued.

(14) (a) Suhject to the terms of the security agreement covering the transition property and the rights of any third parties holding security interests in the transition property perfected in the manner described in this section, the validity and relative priority of a security interest created under this section is not defeated or adversely affected by:

(ii) any security interest of any third party in a deposit account of that utility perfected under Title 30, chapter 9, part 3, into which the revenue is deposited.

(b) Subject to the terms of the security agreement, upon compliance with the requirements of this section, a pledgee of the transition property has a perfected security interest in all cash and deposit accounts of the utility in which revenue arising with respect to the transition property has been commingled with other funds, but the perfected security interest must be limited to an amount no greater than the amount of the revenue with respect to the transition property received by the utility within 12 months before any default under the security agreement or the institution of insolvency proceedings by or against the utility, less payments from the revenue to the pledgees during that 12-month period.

(15) (a) If a default occurs under the security agreement covering the transition property, a pledgee of the transition property, subject to the terms of the security agreement, has all rights and remedies of a secured party upon default under ~~Title 30, chapter 9, part 5~~ [sections 98 through 125], and is entitled to foreclose or otherwise enforce the pledgee's security interest in the transition property, subject to the rights of any third parties holding prior security interests in the transition property perfected in the manner provided in this section.

(b) The commission may require in the financing order creating the transition property that in the event of default by the utility in payment of revenue arising with respect to the transition property, the commission and any successor to the commission, upen the application by a pledgee or assignee of the transition property and without limiting any other remedies available to the pledgees or transferees by reason of the default shall order the sequestration and payment to the pledgee or assignee of the proceeds of the transition property. An order must remain in full force and effect notwithstanding any bankruptcy, reorganization, or other insolvency proceedings with respect to the public utility or a debtor, pledgor, or transferor of the transition property.

(c) Any sum in excess of amounts necessary to pay principal, premium, if any, interest, costs, and arrearages on the transition bonds and other costs arising under the security agreement must be remitted to the debtor or to the pledgor as provided in the security agreement.

(16) (a) A transfer of transition property by a utility to an assignee or by the assignee to another assignee that the parties have in the governing documentation expressly stated to be a sale or other absolute transfer in a transaction approved or authorized in a financing order must be treated as an absolute transfer of all of the transferors right, title, and interest, as in a true sale, and not as a pledge or other financing of the transition property, other than for federal and state income and franchise tax purposes.

(b) Granting to transition bondholders a preferred right to revenue of the utility or the provision by the utility or an assignee of other credit enhancement with respect to transition bonds may not impair or negate the characterization of any transfer as a true sale, other than for federal and state income and franchise tax purposes.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection (16), for state tax purposes, a transfer must be treated as a pledge or other financing unless the governing documentation of transfer specifically states that the transfer is intended to be treated otherwise. The characterization of the transfer as a true sale or other absolute transfer in the governing documentation of a transfer is not intended to prejudice the characterization of the transfer as a pledge or other financing for federal tax purposes.

(17) A sale, assignment, or other transfer of transition property may only be considered perfected as against any third person, including any judicial lien creditor, when both of the following have taken place:

(a) the financing order authorizing the fixed transition amounts included in the transition property has become effective in accordance with subsection (2); and

(b) an assignment of the transition property, in writing, has been executed and delivered to the transferee.

(18) (a) As between bona fide assignees of the same right for value without notice, the assignee first filing a financing statement with the secretary of state in accordance with procedures that the secretary of state may establish has priority. The financing statement must name the assignor of the transition property as debtor and must identify the transition property. Any description of the transition property is sufficient if the description refers to the financing order creating the transition property. The commission may require the assignor or the assignee to make other filings with respect to the transfer in accordance with procedures that the commission may establish, but these filings may not affect the perfection of the transfer.

(b) Any successor to the utility, whether pursuant to any bankruptcy, reorganization, or other insolvency proceeding or pursuant to any merger, sale, or transfer, by operation of law or otherwise, shall perform and satisfy all obligations of the utility pursuant to this section in the same manner and to the same extent as the utility, including but not limited to collecting and paying to the assignee or pledgee, as the case may be, revenue arising with respect to the transition property sold, assigned, transferred, or pledged to secure transition bonds.

(19) Transition property or any right, title, or interest of a utility, assignee, or pledgee described in the definition of transition property, whether before or after the issuance of a financing order, does not constitute an account or general intangibles ~~under 30-9-106~~ as those terms are defined in [section 1]. Any right, title, or interest pertaining to a financing order, including the interest pertaining to a financing order, along with the associated transition property and any revenue, collections, claims, payments, money, or proceeds of or arising from fixed transition amounts pursuant to the financing order, may not be considered proceeds of any right, title, or interest other than in the order and the transition property arising from the order.

(20) The lien under this section is enforceable against the pledgor and all third parties, including judicial lien creditors, subject only to the rights of any third parties holding security interests in the transition property previously perfected in the manner described in this section if value has been given by the purchasers of transition bonds. A perfected lien in transition property is a continuously perfected security interest in all revenue and proceeds arising with respect to the associated transition property, whether or not revenue has been accrued. Transition property constitutes property for the purposes of contracts securing transition bonds, whether or not the related revenue has accrued. The lien created under this section is perfected and ranks before any lien, including any judicial lien, that subsequently attaches to the transition property, to the fixed transition costs, and to the financing order and any rights created by the order or any proceeds of the order. The relative priority of a lien created under this section is not defeated or adversely affected by changes to the financing order or to the fixed transition amounts payable by any customer.

(21) The commission shall establish and maintain a separate system of records to reflect the date and time of receipt of all filings made under this section and may provide that transfers of transition property to an assignee be filed in accordance with the same system.

(22) Any sale, assignment, or other transfer of transition property or any pledge of transition property is exempt from any state or local sales, income, transfers, gains, receipts, or similar taxes.

(23) The transition bonds issued under this chapter are exempt from the provisions of Title 30, chapter 10, but copies of all prospectus and disclosure documents must be deposited for public inspection with the state securities commissioner.

(24) The granting, perfection, and priority of security interests with respect to transition property and the proceeds thereof are governed by this section rather than by Title 30, chapter 9.

(25) Upon the payment in full of transition bond principal and interest, the utility shall discontinue charging and collecting the competitive transition charge associated with that portion of the utility's approved transition costs.

(26) The commission may, by order or rule and subject to terms and conditions that it may prescribe, exempt any security or class of securities for which an application is required under this title or any public utility or class of public utility from the provisions of this title if it finds that the application of this title to the security, class of security, public utility, or class of public utility is not required by the public interest."

Section 152. Section 70-24-430, MCA, is amended to read:

"70-24-430. Disposition of personal property abandoned by tenant after termination. (1) If a tenancy terminates in any manner except by court order and the landlord reasonably believes that the tenant has abandoned all personal property that the tenant has left on the premises and a period of time of at least 5 days has elapsed since the occurrence of events upon which the landlord formed that belief, the landlord may remove the property from the premises.

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1134 1999

(2) The landlord shall inventory and store all goods, chattels, and personal property of the tenant in a place of safekeeping and shall exercise reasonable care for the property. The landlord may chargo a reasonable storago and labor chargo if the property is stored by the landlord, plus the cost of removal of the property to the place of storage. The landlord may store the property in a commercial storage company, in which case tbe storage cost includes tbe actual storage chargo plus the cost of removal of the property to the place of storage.

(3) After complying with subsections (1) and (2), the landlord shall:

(a) make a reasonable attempt to notify the tenant in writing that the property must be removed from the place of safekeeping;

(b) notify tbe local law enforcement office of the property held by the landlord;

(c) make a reasonable effort to determine if the property is secured or otherwise encumbered; and

(d) send a notice by certified mail to the last-known address of the tenant, stating that at a specified time, not less than 15 days after mailing the notice, the property will be disposed of if not removed.

(4) The landlord may dispose of the property after complying with subsection (3) by:

(a) selling all or part of the property at a public or private sale; or

(b) destroying or otherwise disposing of all or part of the property if the landlord reasonably believes that the value of the property is so low that the cost of storage or sale exceeds the reasonable value of the property.

(5) If the tenant, upon receipt of the notice provided in subsection (3), responds in writing to the landlord on or before the day specified in the notice that the tenant intends to remove the property and does not do so within 7 days after delivery of the tenant's response, tbe tenant's property is conclusively presumed to be abandoned. If the tenant removes the property, the landlord is entitled to storage costs for the period that the property remains in safekeeping, plus the cost of removal of the property to the place of storago. Reasonable storage costs are allowed a landlord who stores the property, and actual storage costs are allowed a landlord who stores the property in a commercial storage company. A landlord is entitled to payment of the storage costs allowed under this subsection before the tenant may remove the property.

(6) The landlord is not responsible for any loss to the tenant resulting from storage unless the loss is caused by the landlord's purposeful or negligent act. On the event of purposeful violation, the landlord is liable for actual damages.

(7) A public or private sale authorized by this section must be conducted under the provisions of ~~30-9-504(3)~~ [section 98] or the sheriff's sale provisions of Title 25, chapter 13, part 7.

(8) The landlord may deduct from the proceeds of the sale the reasonable costs of notice, storage, labor, and sale and any delinquent rent or damages owing on the premises and shall remit to the tenant the remaining proceeds, if any, together with an itemized accounting. If the tenant cannot after due diligence be found, the remaining proceeds must be deposited with the county treasurer of the county in which the sale occurred and, if not claimed within 3 years, must revert to the general fund of the county available for general purposes."

Section 161. Security interest of issuer or nominated person. (1) An issuer or nominated person has a security interest in a document presented under a letter of credit and any identifiable proceeds of the collateral to the extent that the issuer or nominated person honors or gives value for the presentation.

(2) Subject to subsection (2)(c), as long as and to the extent that an issuer or nominated person has not been reimbursed or has not otherwise recovered the value given with respect to a security interest in a document under subsection (1), the security interest continues and is subject to chapter 9, but:

(a) a security agreement is not necessary to make the security interest enforceable under [section 12(2)(c)];

(b) if the document is presented in a medium other than a written or other tangible medium, the security interest is perfected; and

(c) if the document is presented in a written or other tangible medium and is not a certificated security, chattel paper, a document of title, an instrument, or a letter of credit, so long as the debtor does not have possession of the document, the security interest is perfected and has priority over a conflicting security interest in the document.

Section 162. Security interest perfected before effective date. (1) If a security interest is enforceable and has priority over the rights of a lien creditor immediately before [this act] takes effect and the applicable requirements for enforceability and perfection under [this act] are satisfied without further action when [this act] takes effect, the security interest is a perfected security interest under [this act].

(2) Except as otherwise provided in [section 166], if a security interest is a perfected security interest under [former chapter 9] immediately before [this act] takes effect but the applicable requirements for enforceability or perfection under [this act] are not satisfied when [this act] takes effect, the security interest:

(a) is a perfected security interest for 1 year after [this act] takes effect;

(b) remains enforceable thereafter only if the security interest becomes enforceable under [section 12] before the year expires; and

(c) remains perfected thereafter only if the applicable requirements for perfection under [this act] are satisfied before the year expires.

Section 163. Security interest unperfected before effective date. A security interest that is enforceable immediately before [this act] takes effect but that is subordinate to the rights of a person that becomes a lien creditor at that time:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. I 1139 1999

(1) remains an enforceable security interest for 1 year after [this act] takes effect;

(2) remains enforceable thereafter if the security interest becomes enforceable under [section 12] when [this act] takes effect or within 1 year thereafter; and

(3) becomes perfected:

(a) without further action, when [this act] takes effect if the applicable requirements for perfection under [this act] are satisfied before or at that time; or

(b) when the applicable requirements for perfection are satisfied if the requirements are satisfied after that time.

Section 164. Effectiveness of action taken before effective date of act. (1) If action other than the filing of a financing statement is taken before [this act] takes effect and the action would have resulted in priority of a security interest over the rights of a lien creditor had the security interest become enforceable before [this act] takes effect, the action is sufficient to perfect a security interest that attaches under [this act] within 1 year after [this act] takes effect. An attached security interest becomes unperfected 1 year after [this act] takes effect unless the security interest becomes a perfected security interest under [this act] before the expiration of that period.

(2) The filing of a financing statement before [this act] takes effect is sufficient to perfect a security interest that attaches after [this act] takes effect to the extent the filing would satisfy the applicable requirements for perfection under [this act].

(3) [This act] does not render ineffective an effective financing statement that is filed before [this act] takes effect in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in [former 30-9-103]. However, except as otherwise provided in subsection (4):

(a) the financing statement ceases to be effective at the earlier of:

(i) the time the financing statement would have ceased to be effective under the law of the jurisdiction in which it is filed; or

(ii) 5 years after [this act] takes effect; and

(b) a continuation statement filed after [this act] takes effect does not continue the effectiveness of the financing statement.

(4) A continuation statement filed after [this act] takes effect and in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction governing perfection as provided in [sections 20 through 61] is effective to continue the effectiveness of a financing statement filed in that jurisdiction before [this act] takes effect.

(5) [This act] does not render ineffective an effective financing statement that was filed before [this act] takes effect and in the office specified in [former 30-9-401]. However, except as otherwise provided in subsection (6):

(a) the financing statement ceases to be effective at the earlier of:

(i) the time the financing statement would have ceased to be effective under [former chapter 9]; or

(ii) 5 years after [this act] takes effect; and

(b) a continuation statement filed after [this act] takes effect does not continue the effectiveness of the financing statement.

(6) A continuation statement filed after [this act] takes effect and in the office specified in [section 71] is effective to continue the effectiveness of a financing statement filed in that office before [this act] takes effect.

(7) A financing statement that includes a financing statement filed before [this act] takes effect and a continuation statement filed after [this act] takes effect is effective only to the extent that it satisfies the requirements of [sections 71 through 97] for an initial financing statement.

Section 165. When initial financing statement suffices as continuation statement. (1) The effectiveness of a financing statement filed before [this act] takes effect may be continued by filing in the office specified in [section 71] an initial financing statement complying with the requirements of subsection (2) if:

(a) the filing of a financing statement in that office is effective to perfect a security interest; and

(b) the preeffective-date financing statement was filed in an office in another state or another office in this state.

(2) To be effective for purposes of subsection (1), an initial financing statement must:

(a) satisfy the requirements of [sections 71 through 97] for an initial financing statement;

(b) identify the preeffective-date financing statement by indicating the office in which the financing statement was filed and providing the dates of filing and file numbers, if any, of the financing statement and of the most recent continuation statement filed with respect to the financing statement; and

(c) indicate that the preeffective-date financing statement remains effective.

Section 166. Persons entitled to file initial financing statement or continuation of statement. A person may file an initial financing statement or a continuation statement under [sections 164 through 169] if:

(1) the secured party of record authorizes the filing; and

(2) the filing is necessary under [sections 164 through 169]:

(a) to continue the effectiveness of a financing statement filed before [this act] takes effect; or

(b) to perfect or continue the perfection of a security interest.

Section 167. Priority. (1) [Former chapter 9] determines the priority of conflicting claims to collateral if the relative priorities of the parties were fixed before [this act] takes effect. In other cases, [this act] determines priority.

(2) For purposes of [section 41(1)], the priority of a security interest that becomes a perfected security interest under [section 165] dates from the time the applicable requirements for perfection are satisfied. This subsection does not apply to conflicting security interests each of which becomes a perfected security interest under [section 165].

Section 168. Repealer. Sections 30-9-102, 30-9-103, 30-9-104, 30-9-105, 30-9-106, 30-9-107, 30-9-108, 30-9-109, 30-9-110, 30-9-112, 30-9-113, 30-9-114,

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) and [sections 164 through 169]:

(a) transactions and liens that were not governed by [former chapter 9] were validly entered into or created before [this act] takes effect and would be subject to [this act] if they had been entered into or created after [this act] takes effect, and the rights, duties, and interests flowing from those transactions and liens remain valid after [this act] takes effect; and

(b) the transactions and liens may he terminated, completed, consummated, or enforced as required or permitted by [this act] or by the law that otherwise would apply if [this act] did not take effect.

(3) [This act] does not affect an action, case, or proceeding commenced before [this act] takes effect.

(i) a public contract for construction, repair, or public works to the lowest responsible bidder without regard to residency. However, a resident bidder must be allowed a preference on a contract against the bid of any nonresident bidder from any state or country that enforces a preference for resident bidders. The preference given to resident bidders of this state must be equal to the preference given in the other state or country.

(ii) a public contract for the purchase of goods, if the goods are comparable in quality and performance, to the lowest responsible resident bidder whose:

(A) bid is not more than 3% higher than that of the lowest responsible nonresident bidder;

(B) offered goods are Montana-made and whose bid is not more than 5% higher than that of the lowest responsible nonresident bidder; or

(ii) the department of transportation has entered into a reciprocity agreement with the foreign country that addresses:

(A) the equal and fair treatment of bids originating in the United States and in the foreign country;

(B) specific ownership requirements and tax policies in the United States and in the foreign country that may result in the unequal treatment of all bids received, regardless of their origin;

(C) the means by which contractors from both the United States and the foreign country are notified of highway projects and construction projects available for bid; and

(D) any other differences in public policy or procedure that may result in the unequal treatment of bids originating in the United States or in the foreign country for projects located in either the United States or the foreign country.

~~(b)~~(c) (i) If both subsections (1)(a)(ii)(B) and (1)(a)(ii)(C) are applicable to bids for a contract, the contract must be awarded to the resident bidder whose offered goods are Montana-made if the bid is:

(2) The commission may let a contract by means other than competitive bidding if it determines that special circumstances so require. The commission shall specify the special circumstances in writing.

(3) The commission may enter into contracts with units of local government for the construction of projects without competitive bidding if it finds that the work can be accomplished at lower total costs, including total costs of labor, materials, supplies, equipment usage, engineering, supervision, clerical and accounting services, administrative costs, and reasonable estimates of other costs attributable to the project.

(4) The commission may delegate to the department the authority to enter, without competitive bidding, agreed-upon price contracts for projects costing $50,000 or less.

(5) The commission or the department may not enter into a contract for [a federal-aid highway project,] a state-funded highway project[,] or a construction project with a bidder whose operations are not headquartered in the United States unless:

(ii) service motor vehicles pursuant to the terms of a franchise and a manufacturer's warranty;

(c) the franchisee, as ~~a~~ an independent and separate business, constitutes a component of the franchisor's distribution system; and

(d) the operation of the franchisee's business is substantially reliant on the franchisor for the continued supply of new motor vehicles, parts, and accessories.

(6) "Franchisee" means a person who receives new motor vehicles from the franchisor under a franchise and who offers, sells, and services ~~such~~ the new motor vehicles to and for the general public.

(11) "New motor vehicle dealer" means a person who buys, sells, exchanges, or offers or attempts to negotiate a sale or exchange or any interest in or who is engaged in the business of selling new motor vehicles under a franchise with the manufacturer of the new motor vehicles or used motor vehicles taken in trade on new motor vehicles.

(b) "Retail sale" does not mean a sale:

Section 2. Section 61-4-204, MCA, is amended to read:

"61-4-204. Filing agreement — produet liability. (1) A franchisee ~~must~~ shall, at the time ~~he applies~~ of application for a new motor vehicle dealer license under the provisions of 61-4-101, file with the department a certified copy of ~~his~~ the written agreement with a manufacturer and a certificate of appointment as dealer or distributor. The certificate of appointment must be signed by an authorized agent of the manufacturer of domestic vehicles whenever there is a direct manufacturer dealer agreement or by an authorized agent of the distributor whenever the manufacturer is wholesaling through an appointed distributorship. The certificate must be signed by an authorized agent of the importer of ~~foreign-made~~ foreign-made vehicles whenever there is a direct importer-dealer agreement or by an authorized agent of the distributor whenever there is an indirect distributor-dealer agreement. The distributor's certificate of appointment must be signed by an authorized agent of the manufacturer of domestically manufactured vehicles or by an authorized agent of the manufacturer or importer of ~~foreign-made~~ foreign-made vehicles.

(2) A franchisee need not file a written agreement or certificate of appointment if the manufacturer on direct dealerships or distributor on indirect dealerships or importer on direct dealerships uses the identical basic agreement for all its franchised dealers or distributors in this state and certifies in the certificate of appointment that the blanket agreement is on file and the written agreement with the particular dealer or distributor, respectively, is identical with the filed blanket agreement and that ~~he~~ the franchisee has filed with the department one ~~such~~ agreement together with a list of franchised dealers or distributors.

(3) A manufacturer, distributor, or importer shall notify the department within 30 days of any revision of or addition to the basic agreement on file or of any franchise supplement to the agreement. Annual renewal of a certificate filed as provided in this section is not required.

(4) A manufacturer ~~must~~ shall file with the department a copy of the delivery and preparation obligations required to be performed by a dealer prior to the delivery of a new motor vehicle to a buyer. These delivery and preparation obligations constitute the dealer's only responsibility for product liability as between the dealer and the manufacturer. Any mechanical, body, or parts defects arising from an express or implied warranty of the manufacturer constitute the manufacturer's product or warranty liability only~~; provided, however, that~~. However, this section ~~shall~~ may not affect the obligations of new motor vehicle dealers to perform ~~such~~ warranty repair and maintenance ~~as~~ that may be required by law or contract. Except as regards household appliances, including but not limited to ranges, refrigerators, and water heaters, in a recreational vehicle, as defined in 61-1-132, and except as regards a truck rated at more than 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight, the manufacturer ~~must~~ shall compensate an authorized dealer for labor, parts, and other expenses incurred by a dealer who performs work to rectify the manufacturer's product or warranty defect or for delivery and preparation obligations at the same rate and time the dealer charges to its retail customers for nonwarranty work of a like kind, based upon a published, nationally recognized, retail flat rate labor time guide manual if the dealer uses the manual as the basis for computing charges for both warranty and retail work.

(5) (a) All claims made by the dealer pursuant to this section for compensation for delivery, preparation, warranty, and recall service, including labor, parts, and other expenses, must be paid by the manufacturer within 30 days of receipt of the claim from the dealer, except that a manufacturer of a motor home, as defined in 61-1-130, shall pay any claim within 60 days of receipt from the dealer.

(b) If a claim is disapproved, the dealer must be notified in writing of the grounds for disapproval. A claim that has not been disapproved in writing within 30 days of having been received must be considered approved, and payment is due to the claimant immediately. However, the manufacturer retains the right to audit a claim for a period of 12 months following the payment of the claim.

(c) A claim that has been approved and paid may not be charged back to the dealer unless the manufacturer proves that:

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. II 1171 1999

(i) the claim was false or fraudulent;

(ii) the repairs were not properly made; or

(iii) the repairs were not necessary to correct the defective condition.

(d) A manufacturer may not deny a claim or reduce the amount to be reimbursed to the dealer if the dealer has provided reasonably sufficient documentation demonstrating that the dealer performed the services in compliance with the written policies and procedures of the manufacturer.

(e) A franchisor may reasonably and periodically audit a motor vehicle dealer to determine the validity of paid claims or chargebacks for customer or dealer incentives. An audit of incentive payments may apply only to the 18-month period immediately preceding the date on which the dealer was notified of an impending audit.

~~(5)~~(6) The dealer ~~must~~ shall furnish the purchaser of a new vehicle with a signed copy of the manufacturer's delivery and preparation requirements indicating that each of those requirements has been performed."

Section 3. Section 61-4-208, MCA, is amended to read:

"61-4-208. Prohibited acts. (1) A manufacturer of new motor vehicles, a factory branch, a distributor, a distributor branch, an importer, a field representative, an officer, an agent, or any representative of the persons or entities listed may not:

(a) coerce, attempt to coerce, or require a new motor vehicle dealer to:

(i) accept delivery of a new motor vehicle, a part, or an accessory for a new motor vehicle or any other commodity that has not been ordered by the dealer;

(ii) participate in or contribute to any local, regional, or national advertising fund or to participate in or to contribute to contests, giveaways, or other sales devices;

(iii) change location of the dealership or to make substantial alterations to the use or number of franchises or the dealership premises or facilities when to do so would be unreasonable, or without written assurance of a sufficient supply of new motor vehicles that would justify an expansion;

(iv) either establish or maintain exclusive facilities, personnel, or display space or to abandon an existing franchise relationship with another manufacturer that was established before April 8, 1997, when those requirements are not justified by reasonable business considerations;

(v) refrain from participation in the management of, investment in, or acquisition of any other line of new motor vehicle or related products if the new motor vehicle dealer maintains a reasonable line of credit for each make or line of new motor vehicles and remains in compliance with any reasonable capital standards and facility requirements of the manufacturer; or

(vi) enter into an agreement with a manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or representative of the listed persons or entities or do any other act unfair to the dealer by:

(A) threatening to cancel or not renew a franchise existing between the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, or representative of the listed persons or entities and the dealer; or

HeinOnline -- 1999 vol. II 1172 1999

(B) threatening to withhold, delay, or disrupt the receipt of new motor vehicles or any motor vehicle parts or supplies ordered by the dealer from the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, distributor branch, importer, or representative or agent of the listed entities;

(b) delay, refuse, or fail to deliver new vehicles in a reasonable time in a reasonable quantity relative to the new vehicle dealer's facilities and sales potential after accepting an order from a new vehicle dealer if the new vehicles are publicly advertised as being available for immediate delivery; or

(c) impose unreasonable restrictions on the assertion of legal or equitable rights on the new motor vehicle dealer or franchise regarding transfer; sale; right to renew; termination; discipline; noncompetition covenants; site control, whether by sublease, collateral pledge of lease, or otherwise; or compliance with subjective standards.

(2) There is no violation of subsection (1)(a)(iii) or (1)(b) if a failure on the part of the manufacturer, factory branch, distributor, or distributor branch is beyond the control of the listed persons or entities.

(3) (a) Except as provided in subsection (3)(b) or (3)(c), a manufacturer of new motor vehicles, a factory branch, a distributor, a distributor branch, an importer, a field representative, an officer, an agent, or any representative of any of these persons or entities may not own or operate, directly or indirectly, a motor vehicle dealership in Montana that is for sale or has been for sale under a franchise agreement with a new motor vehicle dealer in Montana.

(b) If there is no independent person available to own and operate a motor vehicle dealership in a manner that is consistent with the public interest, a manufacturer of new motor vehicles, a factory branch, a distributor, a distributor branch, an importer, a field representative, an officer, an agent, or any representative of any of these persons or entities may own and operate a motor vehicle dealership for a temporary period, not to exceed 1 year, during the transition from one owner of the dealership to another. Approval of the sale may not be unreasonably withheld by the manufacturer.

(c) A manufacturer of new motor vehicles, a factory branch, a distributor, a distributor branch, an importer, a field representative, an officer, an agent, or any representative of any of these persons or entities may own an interest in a motor vehicle dealership but may not operate the dealership unless a manufacturer of new motor vehicles, a factory branch, a distributor, a distributor branch, an importer, a field representative, an officer, an agent, or any representative of any of these persons or entities has a bona fide business relationship with an independent person who is not a franchisor or a franchisor's agent or affiliate, who has made an investment that is subject to loss in the dealership, and who reasonably expects to acquire full ownership of the dealership on reasonable terms and conditions."

Section 4. Saving clause. [This act] does not affect rights and duties that matured, penalties that were incurred, or proceedings that were begun before [the effective date of this act].

Section 5. Effective date. [This act] is effective on passage and approval.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsections (2)(b), (2)(d), (2)(f), (4), and (5), term or blanket permits may not be issued for an overwidth vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, or other thing in excess of 15 feet; an overlength vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing in excess of 95 feet; or an overheight vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, or other thing in excess of 14 feet or of a limit determined by the department. A vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, or other thing in excess of these dimensions is limited to trip permits. A Rocky Mountain double may not exceed 81 feet in combined trailer length~~, and the long semitrailer cargo unit of the combination may not exceed 48 feet in length~~. A Rocky Mountain double is not subject to a combination length limit. Special permits for vehicle combinations of more than two trailers or more than two units designed for or used to carry a load are not permitted except as provided in subsections (4) and (5). Special permits for vehicle combinations may specify and special permits under subsections (4) and (5) must specify highway routing and otherwise limit or prescribe conditions of operation of the vehicle or combination, including but not limited to required equipment, speed, stability, operational procedures, and insurance.

(b) A term permit may be issued to a dealer in implements of husbandry and self-propelled machinery for an overwidth or overlength vehicle referred to in subsection (2)(a). The fee for this permit is $75. This permit expires on December 31 of each year, with no grace period.

(d) A term permit may be issued for any combination of vehicles that exceeds 95 feet in length but does not exceed 100 feet in combination length, except a truck-trailer-trailer or a truck tractor-semitrailer-trailer-trailer combination, for travel only on highways that are part of the federal-aid interstate system, as defined in 60-1-103, or on other highways within a 2-mile radius of an interchange on the interstate system in order to obtain necessary services or to load or unload at a terminal. When a terminal is beyond a 2-mile radius, the department may authorize travel between the terminal and the interchange. The fee for this permit is $125.

(a) the combination may be operated only on highways that are part of the federal-aid interstate system, as defined in 60-1-103, and within a 2-mile radius of an interchange on the interstate system on other highways only in order to obtain necessary services or to load or unload at a terminal. (iv) provides the department of transportation with an affidavit confirming the routes used before July 1, 1987, for truck-trailer-trailer operations.

(a) that the use of additional metering equipment to monitor the flow of electricity in each direction is necessary and appropriate for the interconnection of net metering systems, after taking into account the benefits and costs of purchasing and installing additional metering equipment; and

(b) how the costs of net metering are to be allocated between the customer-generator and the distribution services provider; and

(2) charge the customer-generator a minimum monthly fee that is the same as other customers of the electric utility in the same rate class. The commission shall determine, after appropriate notice and opportunity for comment if:

(a) the distribution services provider will incur direct costs associated with interconnecting or administering net metering systems that exceed any offsetting henefits associated with these net metering systems; and

(b) public policy is best served by imposing these costs on the customer-generator, rather than allocating theso costs among the distribution services provider's entire customer base.

Section 4. Net energy measurement calculation. Consistent with the other provisions of [sections 1 and 3 through 5], the net energy measurement must be calculated in the following manner:

(1) The distribution services provider shall measure the net electricity produced or consumed during the billing period, in accordance with normal metering practices.

(3) If electricity generated by the customer-generator exceeds the electricity supplied by the electricity supplier, the customer-generator must be:

(a) billed for the appropriate customer charges for tbat billing period, in accordance with [section 3]; and

(b) credited for the excess kilowatt hours generated during the billing period, with this kilowatt-hour credit appearing on the bill for the following billing period.

(4) At the beginning of each calendar year, any remaining unused kilowatt-hour credit accumulated during the previous year must he granted to the electricity supplier, without any compensation to the customer-generator.

Section 5. Net metering system — reliability and safety. (1) A net metering system used by a customer-generator must include, at the customer-generator's own expense, all equipment necessary to meet applicable safety, power quality, and interconnection requirements established by the national electrical code, national electrical safety code, institute of electrical and electronic engineers, and underwriters laboratories.

(2) The commission, after appropriate notice and opportunity for comment, may adopt by rule additional safety, power quality, and interconnection requirements for customer-generators that the commission or the local governing body determines are necessary to protect public safety and net metering system reliability.

Section 6. Applicability. [Sections 1 through 5] do not apply to corporations organized under Title 35, chapter 18.

Section 7. Codification instruction. [Sections 1 and 3 through 5] are intended to be codified as an integral part of Title 69, chapter 8, and the provisions of Title 69, chapter 8, apply to [sections 1 and 3 through 5].

Scction 8. Effectivc date. [This act] is effective July 1, 1999.

(ii) for a restaurant located in a quota area with a population of 20,001 to 60,000 persons, as the quota area population is determined in 16-4-105, if the number of restaurant beer and wine licenses issued in that quota area is equal to or less than 50% of the number of beer licenses that may be issued in that quota area pursuant to 16-4-105;

(iii) for a restaurant located in a quota area with a population of 60,001 persons or more, as the quota area population is determined in 16-4-105, if the number of restaurant beer and wine licenses issued in that quota area is equal to or less than 40% of the number of beer licenses that may be issued in that quota area pursuant to 16-4-105; and

(b) In determining the number of restaurant beer and wine licenses that may be issued under this subsection (8) based on the percentage amounts described in subsections (8)(a)(i) through (8)(a)(iii), the department shall round to the nearer whole number.

(c) If the department has issued the number of restaurant beer and wine licenses authorized for a quota area under subsections (8)(a)(i) through (8)(a)(iii), there must be a one-time adjustment of one additional license for that quota area.

~~(c)~~(d) If there are more applicants than licenses available in a quota area, then the license must be awarded by lottery as provided in subsection (9).

(9) (a) When a restaurant beer and wine license becomes available by the initial issuance of licenses under this section or as the result of an increase in the population in the quota area, the nonrenewal of a restaurant beer and wine license, or the lapse or revocation of ~~the~~ a license by the department, then the department shall advertise the availability of the license in the quota area for which it is available. If there are more applicants than number of licenses available, the license must be awarded to an applicant by a lottery.

(b) Any applicant who operates a restaurant that meets the qualifications of subsection (6) for at least 12 months prior to the filing of an application must be given a preference, and any unsuccessful lottery applicants from previous selections must also be given a preference. An applicant with both preferences must be awarded a license before any applicant with only one preference.

(c) The department shall numerically rank all applicants in the lottery. Only the successful applicants will be required to suhmit a completed application and ~~the~~a one-time required fee. The applicant's qualifications for any other restaurant beer and wine license awarded by lottery must be determined at the time of the lottery.

(10) Under a restaurant beer and wine license, beer and wine may not be sold for off-premises consumption.

(11) An application for a restaurant beer and wine license must be accompanied by a fee equal to 20% of the initial licensing fee. If the department does not make a decision either granting or denying the license within 4 months of receipt of a complete application, the department shall pay interest on the application fee at the rate set in 16-1-409(4) until a license is issued or the application is denied. Interest may not accrue during any period that the processing of an application is delayed by reason of a protest filed pursuant to 16-4-203 or 16-4-207. If the department denies issuing a license to an applicant, the application fee, plus any interest, less a $100 processing fee, must be refunded to the applicant. Upon the issuance of a license, the licensee shall pay the balance of the initial licensing fee. The amount of the initial licensing fee is determined according to the following schedule:

(a) $5,000 for restaurants with a stated seating capacity of 60 persons or less;

(b) $10,000 for restaurants with a stated seating capacity of 61 to 100 persons; or

(c) $20,000 for restaurants with a stated seating capacity of 101 persons or more.

(14) The number of beer and wine licenses issued to restaurants with a stated seating capacity of 101 persons or more may not exceed 25% of the total licenses issued.

(15) Possession of a restaurant beer and wine license is not a qualification for licensure of any gaming or gambling activity. A gaming or gambling activity may not occur on the premises of a restaurant with a restaurant beer and wine license."

(3) A shareholder of a DISC that is exempt from the corporation license tax under 15-31-102(1)(l) shall include in the shareholder's adjusted gross income the earnings and profits of the DISC in the same manner as provided by section 995 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 995, for all periods for which the DISC election is effective.

(4) A taxpayer who, in determining federal adjusted gross income, has reduced the taxpayer's business deductions by an amount for wages and salaries for which a federal tax credit was elected under sections 38 and 51(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as those sections may be labeled or amended, is allowed to deduct the amount of the wages and salaries paid regardless of the credit taken. The deduction must be made in the year that the wages and salaries were used to compute the credit. In the case of a partnership or small business corporation, the deduction must be made to determine the amount of income or loss of the partnership or small business corporation.

(5) Married taxpayers filing a joint federal return who are required to include part of their social security benefits or part of their tier 1 railroad retirement benefits in federal adjusted gross income may split the federal base used in calculation of federal taxable social security benefits or federal taxable tier 1 railroad retirement benefits when they file separate Montana income tax returns. The federal base must be split equally on the Montana return.

(6) A taxpayer receiving retirement disability benefits who has not attained age 65 by the end of the tax year and who has retired as permanently and totally disabled may exclude from adjusted gross income up to $100 a week received as wages or payments in lieu of wages for a period during which the employee is absent from work due to the disability. If the adjusted gross income before this exclusion and before application of the two-earner married couple deduction exceeds $15,000, the excess reduces the exclusion by an equal amount. This limitation affects the amount of exclusion, but not the taxpayer's eligibility for the exclusion. If eligible, married individuals shall apply the exclusion separately, but the limitation for income exceeding $15,000 is determined with respect to the spouses on their combined adjusted gross income. For the purpose of this subsection, "permanently and totally disabled" means unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determined physical or mental impairment lasting or expected to last at least 12 months.

(7) Married taxpayers who file a joint federal return and who make an election on the federal return to defer income ratably for 4 tax years because of a conversion from an IRA other than a Roth IRA to a Roth IRA, pursuant to section 408A(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 408A(d)(3), may file separate Montana income tax returns to defer the full taxable conversion amount from Montana adjusted gross income for the same time period. The deferred amount must be attributed to the taxpayer making the conversion. (Subsection (2)(f) terminates on occurrence of contingency—sec. 3, Ch. 634, L. 1983.)"

Section 2. Effective date. [This act] is effective on passage and approval.

Section 3. Retroactive applicability. [This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to tax years beginning after December 31, 1997.
